Theme

To enhance the beauty of our city and to provide added convenience to its citizens our campus was planned, erected, and brought to life. From that time on Normandy was to be the name we have worked to uphold. Years have gone by, war has come and gone, and peace is here again; yet Normandy still remains. Changes have been made, but time has glorified our school. Its history has made it proud.

In the 1946 Watchtower the staff has tried to express its appreciation of the school which has given us all so much. We have endeavored to give to every Norman a book that will never let him forget the feeling he has had for Normandy's halls. Campus scenes most dear to all of us are highlighted so as to remain an everlasting memory. Friends whose pictures you see here may never be forgotten. Pleasant memories of clubs and activities will soon return with a moment's glance through these pages.

To help you remember these scenes on Normandy's campus student photography this year has played a greater part than ever before in the makeup of the annual. In this way the book becomes more personal to each member of the student body. As you scan the pages, you will notice as a result of this expression of student opinion that popular events, scenes, and traditions have been given a more prominent display.

Four years of high school may be a small part of our life, but it comes at one of the most important times — when we are growing up. Therefore the campus where we spent these four years, the buildings themselves, the friends we made, the things we did and wish we had done — all come to our minds when we remember Beverly. To help recall these four years is your 1946 Watchtower.

Dedication

The world waits for youth.

War's harsh thunder is silenced — not so with the cries of the earth's stricken peoples. The triumph itself was a small task compared to that which lies before the oncoming generation — the rehabilitation, spiritual as well as physical, of a society shaken to its very foundations by that holocaust.

Thus we deem it only fitting that this WATCHTOWER of 1946 should be doubly dedicated — first of all to those who, as members of the graduating classes, have this year passed forever from the scene at Beverly to tread life's uncertain path, and again, to the memory of Normandy's own heroes, who, in serving the greatest cause of all, have passed forever from this earthly scene to that which lies beyond.

And so it is that we who bid farewell to Beverly take increased devotion from their passing and pledge that these, our honored dead, "shall not have died in vain." May we ever hold it high, this purpose conceived of Norman blood, and as a torch may it burn forever in our hearts — a challenge to the future and a debt to the past.

Grant strength to our purpose and courage to our convictions, that we may forge of our deeds a flaming blade, tempered in the blood of those who offered up their lives upon the altar of freedom. May we advance through life, forever brandishing this blade — a sword of hope. . . Yes, the world waits for youth.

Hi Baby,
I can't think of anything to say
except that I sure hope you'll have a lot of fun this summer and always.
Well baby I've got tonight - you
this I love - you
kisses, - me (that's)

Board of Education

DR. E. J. HUMMEL

MR. A. A. BOWHAY

Keynoting the activities of the Board of Education this year was the problem of reconverting its policies to peacetime conditions. A great number of instructors returned from the services to resume positions occupied during their absence by teachers employed on a temporary basis.

A considerable sum of money was appropriated for projects designed to better the appearance of the campus. Among these were a drainage system for the athletic field, a concrete curbing around the track, a baseball backstop, and a paved walk extending around the gyms. To facilitate the handling of crowds in the swim gym, fences were erected so that only one entrance to the building remains; entrance to the grandstands was made easier by means of walk-ins.

A retirement plan for non-certificated employees was enacted by the Board to coincide with the state program, and Mr. John C. Schwartz was appointed Director of Visual Education, in charge of classroom movies, records, etc. At present the Board is considering plans submitted by a local architectural firm concerning the property on Heath Avenue adjoining the school, which call for parking areas, tennis courts, a horticultural laboratory, and possibly a student center.

This year you students have taken a forward step in furthering student body government. You have demonstrated your ability to assume the responsibilities of a citizen in a democracy. This experience should be of value to you and our country in the years ahead. I congratulate you upon your achievement and trust that your constructive work will be carried on by the students who will follow.

Winter Cabinet

For the first time in many years we returned to school with the world at peace. This prevented the addition of more gold stars to our service flag, and it opened the door to increased activities.

It is not possible to put the best four years of one's life into words, but those who have graduated will always remember many things about Beverly. The friends we have made, the warmth and generosity of all—these are the things we will take with us. Our experiences in the classrooms will help us in the pursuit of our careers, but we will remember longest the activities in which we participated.

My thanks go to the council for its progressive action and to those members of the faculty who are the constant supporters of the student body.

Winter Council

Confronted by an unusual number of knotty problems at the start of the semester, the student body and class officers who composed the student council proved themselves highly competent in providing workable solutions for these problems.

Foremost among the questions facing the council was that of increasing participation in elections. It was arranged that students interested in running for an office would have a period of two days to sign up; thereafter a nominating committee composed of two members of each class, plus the student body president and vice-president, would urge qualified students to become candidates. To further this end grade standards were lowered from 1.4 to 1.2.

At one of the two Bay League Forums it was decided to revive the tradition of having a Sportsmanship Trophy, and arrangements were made for hiring men to act as judges, at a cost of twenty dollars to each school. A solution to the problem of choosing pom-pom girls was also worked out: a committee consisting of the three yell leaders, the student body president, the Boys' and Girls' League presidents, four representatives of the school's honor organizations, the Dean of Girls, and a faculty representative of the Girls' Physical Education Department would try out candidates and choose double the number needed. Then, after trying out in an assembly, the pom-pom girls would be elected by the student body to serve for one year.

The disposition of 300 dollars awarded the school from the proceeds of the Aquacade by the P.T.A. was undertaken by the student council, with the result that a vote of the student body was taken on the question, and the students elected to allocate the money to a fund for a football scoreboard. Climaxing the council's activities, a Victory Chest and a War Bond drive were staged, with Normans over-subscribing their 50,000 dollar quota by 3,000 dollars.

Bill Fore

Beverly has successfully completed her first post-war year. Reconversion has come rapidly, and many of the old events and activities have been revived. The Norman spirit is at a high peak.

We who are leaving feel that our job is finished, but to you who remain we bequeath the challenge to strive constantly to further the achievements we have made. Only then can Beverly stay where it belongs — on top!

I wish to extend my sincere appreciation to the faculty, to the administration, and to the interested citizens whose aid was invaluable in putting through the canteen project. To the cabinet and the members of the student body who gave me their confidence and wholehearted support, I can only say, "Thank you." Your assistance has been an increasing source of encouragement throughout the year.

Summer Council

Perhaps the most progressive student administrative group ever to serve Beverly, this year's Summer Council boasts a record of many significant accomplishments. Foremost among these is the student canteen project; which, though under consideration for some years previously, was finally accorded prospects of immediate reality by virtue of the efforts of Bill Fore and the council. By the middle of April, after several mass meetings of parents and students, an adult advisory board had been incorporated consisting of representatives from every civil group in Beverly Hills plus four members of the student council, and plans were under way to secure a temporary site for the canteen until the lifting of building restrictions would permit the erection of a permanent building.

Second in importance among the council's achievements was the setting up of a Spirit Committee to promote better understanding and working relationship among the administration, faculty, and student body and to unite the facilities of the various organizations within the student body into a more concentrated effort. Representatives from all classes and every phase of student activity, appointed by the president, serve on this committee, which, along with another innovation, the student-faculty relations board, has stimulated school spirit.

Discussion was aroused on the question of the school's buying a motion picture projector; consequently a fund was inaugurated for this purpose, and already a good portion of the necessary amount has been donated. A similar situation exists concerning Beverly's projected war memorial, chimes for the tower. This fund is also well on its way to completion, though the equipment itself will not be procurable for some time.

A proposal of some years' standing was acted upon by the summer council with the chartering of a lower grade girls' honor organization, the Adelprians. The club will function as a service group. The council also established the holding of a student body card as a requirement for admission to any school-chartered club.

Girls' League

Activities of the Girls' League were greatly stimulated this year by increased facilities, able leadership, and the enthusiastic attitude of all. To welcome freshman girls the semi-annual Big and Little Sister Party was held September 26, featuring a program of entertainment by cabinet members; while later in the semester a Mothers' Tea, an upper grade girls tea, and a lower grade girls' tea were put on by the League. At these teas alumnae spoke on problems of college life. Every student at the needy Albion Street school was the recipient of a Christmas gift by virtue of the League's donations, and Mickey Titus, as Santa Claus, brought joy and laughter to all the children. To wind up the semester's activities a fashion show was presented.

At the inception of the second semester the new cabinet members occupied themselves with entertaining freshman girls at a Big and Little Sister Party; on February 27 prominent student body officers spoke at a lower grade tea. The Girls' League presented another assembly during activity period on March 12, at which Mrs. Dorothy Preble of the Preble Modeling School was the speaker. Collecting books for the Albion Street School and magazines for the Red Cross was a major project of the League during the year and was carried out with much success. An upper grade tea and a noon dance, the first presented at Beverly in nearly two years, culminated the activities of this year's Girls' League.

Boys' League

As its initial effort in a thoroughly successful year, the Boys' League sponsored an assembly designed to acquaint Normans with conditions in war-torn countries, at which Lieutenant James Stewart of the Navy, S '36, just returned from many months' service overseas, spoke. Next on the lineup of activities came the senior A-senior B basketball game, which, though played on the swim gym floor, proved a strange version of the cage sport; however the fracas was well-received by the student body. The Boys' League terminated its activities for the fall semester with the semi-annual boxing-wrestling assembly, a source of great interest to every boy.

The return of noon music under the sponsorship of the Boys' League was the feature of the league's activities during the spring semester. Revival of these programs was made possible by the war's end, since the chief objection to them had been the disturbance to war workers in the surrounding neighborhood who were obliged to seek rest during the day.

Two sports projects were promoted by the Boys' League, both of which proved highly successful. The traditional senior A-faculty baseball game and a boxing assembly comprised the events.

First Semester

Student Court

At the conclusion of a year of unprecedented activity the Student Court was easily the most talked about feature of student government at Beverly. Inevitable criticism notwithstanding, there was no one to question the difficulty of the job that this board faced or the commendable attitude of every student justice.

Serving as chief justice through both semesters, Bob Ewing became proficient in handling knotty problems of jurisprudence and was a steadying influence to the court. Fred Lee and Mariellen Smith, graduates of the winter class, were replaced at the turn of the semester by Carolyn Pickens and Sanford Bothman, who, while newcomers, were among the most active members of the court. The remaining six justices — seniors Jim Griffin and Les Liscom, juniors Bob Ward, Marlo Jarman, Lucky O'Keefe, and Betty Santley — served throughout the year.

The Court operated as usual under the guidance of Mrs. Leah Moore, Dean of Girls, and Mr. K. C. Mitchell, Dean of Boys. As the jurisdiction of the court was widened to include practically all forms of student violations, the board found itself called upon to deliver a tremendously increased number of decisions and, at the same time, to decide on matters which were of vital interest to every Norman.

The Student Court has proved itself to the extent that no student at Beverly denies that it serves his own best interests.

Color

Rocketing into the spacious universe, the Senior Class of '46 presented the annual Color Night with the theme of a visit to the stratosphere.

As the curtain rose, a belated idea for the show was hastily being sought by members of the Color Night committee, portrayed by Doreen Corson, Barbara Fingerhart, Jerry Hummel, Burton Low, June O'Keeffe, Betty Roe, Stefan Schwarz, Patsy Van Ronkel, and Bob Wolfe.

The scene was interrupted for a moment by the "Ladies of the Chorus." John Ausman, Chuck Coons, Jim Cornelius, Dick Davis, Bill Douglass, Dean Hanson, Ralph Hassel, Harris Katleman, Dick Kindelon, Merwin Koeppel, Jim Mears, Frank Morriss, Walt Murphy, Vic Palmieri, Chuck Perry, Dick Robbins, Phil Ryan, Conrad Schweitzer, Dick St. Johns, Chuck Weisstein, John Will, and Jim Wright participated in this stage crew dance.

First stop was the planet Saturn, where the night club's master of ceremonies, Martin Schnitzer, welcomed the committee members. Harris Katleman and Merwin Koeppel's interpretations of Buck Rogers and the Intelligence Man were the comedy hits of this act. "Under the Bunsen Burners"—a melodrama with Bobbette Goldberg, Bob Herts, Rod Loeb, Joyce Roodberg, Manya Shayon, and Lester Wertheimer—and the "Robotettes"—Willie Hicks, Regina Hinds, June Johnson, Eleanor Knecht, Marion Major, Sue Robinson, Betty Springmeyer, and Betty Stauffer in a luminous dance number—also provided entertainment.

Next the rocket ship and its occupants journeyed to Venus, the planet to which no man had ever ventured. Princesses Jackie Hamlin, Margie Norberg, Justine Jones, and Queen Marie Baldwin greeted the newcomers with an air of curiosity as to what they were. "Cupid" Dick Kelton hurriedly explained that those "things" were men, and the curiosity was quickly changed to joy.

Buddy Constine, Joe Ginsberg, and Cliff Scherer added many laughs to the show with their idea of the Andrews Sisters' rendition of "One Meat Ball." "The Beautiful Ladies in Waiting"—Joanne Bowerman, Barbara Daniel, Dionne Doree, Ellen Espy, Pat Fotre, Joan Halperin, Betty Holman, Barbara Kelley, Mary Ellen Kilfeather, Louise Kramer, Diane Leib, Terry Lovergine, Jody Peluso, and Norma Vincent—added more color to Venus.

M.C.'d by George Sherman, the Junior Philharmonic Orchestra, featuring such renowned musicians as Bill Boeck, Bob Ewing, Bill Fore, Joyce Hubbard, Jerry Hummel, and Gene Roche, then took the spotlight for a change of scene.

Utopia, the student's paradise, was the last planet of the universe that Color Night depicted. Receptionist Gloria Friedland attempted to show her visitors what school would be like in that happy-go-lucky place with a presentation of "Jones and Company." Some of the outstanding characterizations in this act were those of Dean Conklin as Mr. Reggie Twichell, Dick St. Johns as Mr. Casey Twichell; Jackie Hamlin, secretary; Mickey Titus, Trick Facey; and Mariellen Smith, Alpha.

Night

"The Corn Is Green," with George Clausen, Sam Halper, George Hexter, Bob Huttenback, Dave Lauren, and Bob Powell, gave Normandy students a chance to see what school classes would be like in Utopia.

Specialty numbers throughout the production were done by Claire Hoelzle, Lunda Lou Hoyle, Judy Landon, and André Previn; while Richard Rex and Gene Roche and Janis Garber and Barbara Vance entertained with duets.

Climaxing the show in the traditional grand finale, the entire senior class came to the stage in senior sweaters of red and white to sing their song, Bill Fore's "We Are the Seniors of 1946."

Breaking past traditions, this year's show was given on Saturday night, November 3, in contrast to the previous performances on the Wednesday before Thanksgiving. Miss Florence A. Kinsey took over from Miss Harriet Louise Touton the sponsorship of the production for the first time.

Dean Conklin, president of the senior class, and a committee composed of Merwin Koepfel, Sue Robinson, Mariellen Smith, and Mickey Titus met soon after the opening of school to hear proposed themes for Color Night and finally decided that Claire Hoelzle's futuristic idea offered the greatest possibilities.

The general continuity to fit in with the chosen theme was then written by Merle Sandler, Stefan Schwarz, George Sherman, and Patsy Van Ronkel. Student Producer Merle Sandler and his assistant, Stefan Schwarz, deserve another line of credit.

Claire Hoelzle's direction and arrangement made possible many of the various dance scenes, while both Bill Fore and André Previn may be credited for the evening's music. Carol Strauss assisted by being in charge of the costumes.

Working backstage, Make-up Chairman Lynn Rogers was assisted by Marcy Altman, Marcia Barman, Barbara Clancy, Phyllis Cohn, Dorothy Davis, Regina Hinds, Joan Middleditch, Diane Pitman, Paula Smill, and Myrna Weinstock.

For the first time since his return from naval service in 1945, Mr. Bryant M. Hale supervised the technical angle of the senior presentation. Conrad Schweitzer, stage manager; Oliver Berliner, head of lighting and sound; John Steigerwald, electrician; and Dean Hanson, head flyman; solved the production problems of the acts. The art work for the scenes was done by Chuck Weisstein, who directed the building of the sets, and Phil Ryan, who headed the paint staff.

Many members of the faculty deserve acknowledgments for their assistance in producing this year's Color Night. Mrs. Eleanor F. Welch, as sponsor of the senior class, held the general supervision in her hands, while Mr. Glen M. Case provided the musical arrangements.

Recognition is due also to Mrs. Lila Stainbrook, who directed the dance numbers, and to Mrs. Lucille Robert, who was in charge of costumes.

Seniors in Review

With an eye to the future the graduating classes of '46 couldn't say farewell to their alma mater without first recalling some of those happy or sad or colossal or insignificant events which filled their four years at Beverly. Space curtails their reflections, but on this page are printed memories they will never forget.

FRESHMAN FIRSTS

SOPHOMORE SECONDS

Bond drives and minute maids, air raid drills and Red Cross classes, seats under the balcony, and those oh-so-green freshmen.

JUNIOR TIME

Junior dance, drill team, basketball tournament, N.P. Plan, and at last summer vacation.

SENIOR SURVEY

Ditch day, prom, spirit committee, student canteen, elections, senior questionnaire, Baccalaureate, and GRADUATION.

Varsity

Coach Max Glass' varsity football team went through a mediocre season of three wins and five defeats and wound up fourth in the Bay League race. Six returning lettermen, players from last year's bee squad, and many newcomers made a game and fighting outfit.

In the opening game of the season Beverly toppled Burbank, 24-13, as Right-half Mickey Titus and Captain Jim Powers, left-half, each scored twice. Titus carried the ball eighteen times and came out with an average of ten yards a crack. The following week the locals took a 14-6 loss from this year's C.I.F. champs, Santa Ana.

The next week Beverly, sparked by Captain Powers' 80 yard touchdown jaunt and his last minute touchdown pass to End Bob Ewing, dumped a favored Mark Keppel team, 19-18. The Orange and White had no trouble in downing Santa Monica, 33-6, in the Bay League opener, as Frank Morriss, Fred Lee, Dean Hanson, and Pat Dunne shined but dropped a heart-breaker, 18-13, in the Leuzinger battle, which featured a 70 yard touchdown sprint by Fullback Don MacKinnon. Guard Dick Kelton and Tackle Jerry Moore sparked the line.

An injury-riddled squad succumbed to Compton, 26-6, as Sub-fullback Frank Milano scored the only Norman touchdown. In the last two league games Inglewood proved too much for the Glassmen, 41-7, while the Redondo Seahawks crushed the locals, 39-0.

Sparking the line all season were regulars Pat Dunne and Bob Ewing at end, Jerry Moore and Walt Murphy at tackles, Fred Lee and Dick Kelton at the guard spots, and Dean Hanson at center. Quarter-back Frank Morriss combined with MacKinnon, Powers, and Titus to round out the backfield.

Reserve Ends Conrad Schweitzer, Chuck Weisstein, and Vic Palmieri played good ball throughout the season and saw much action, as did Bob Huttenback and Sophomore Jim Young, second string center and tackle. Substitutes Jack Doke, Jim Griffin, and Chuck Perry filled the guard spots. Half-back Dick St. Johns was the only steady backfield replacement.

Mickey Titus culminated his dynamic football career with a first string position on the all-league team for a third straight year. Captain Powers ended his third year of varsity pigskin play with a second string position at half-back on the All-Bay League team and then gained further glory by being placed in this same position on the All C.I.F. second string.

Varsity Football Players

PAT DUNNE, playing his first year of varsity ball, was a standout at end and excelled in defense. He was an above average pass receiver.

BOB EWING, end, rated as the most improved player on the squad, was tops as a pass receiver and was unparalleled for sensational last minute catches.

DON MACKINNON, one of the smallest men on the team, was a flashy runner, a hard hitting fullback, and an excellent blocker.

JERRY MOORE, tackle, was the scrappiest player on the team and a stalwart on defense and a fine tackler, whom all opponents rated tough.

WALT MURPHY, a hard hitter and a steady player, won his letter for the second straight year at the right tackle slot.

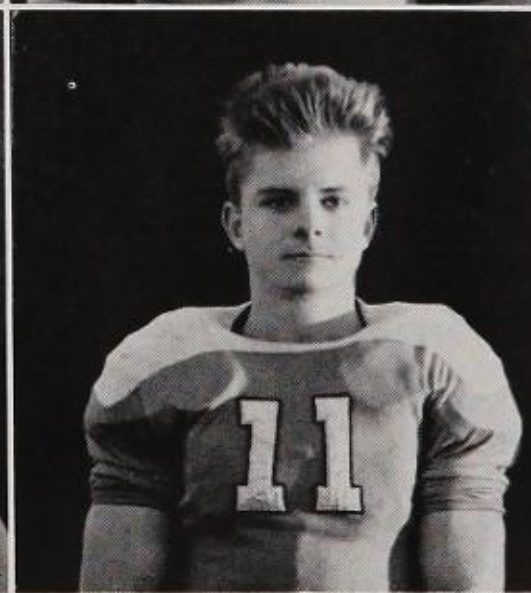

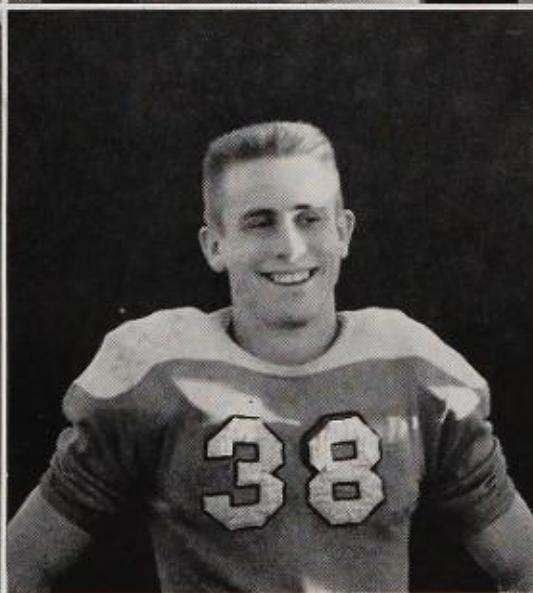

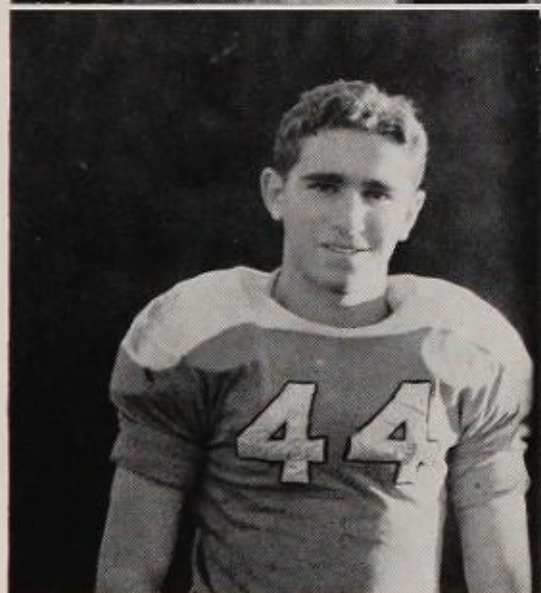

CAPTAIN JIM POWERS, left half, playing his third year of varsity ball, was an inspiring teammate and the team's best all around player.

Bee Football Players

RONNY CARPENTER, pivotman, cleared the way for center smashes, shining on defense and offense and recovering more than his share of fumbles.

MITCHELL CLEARY, right-half, used his speed to good advantage as the team's best runner and wound up as the squad's leading scorer.

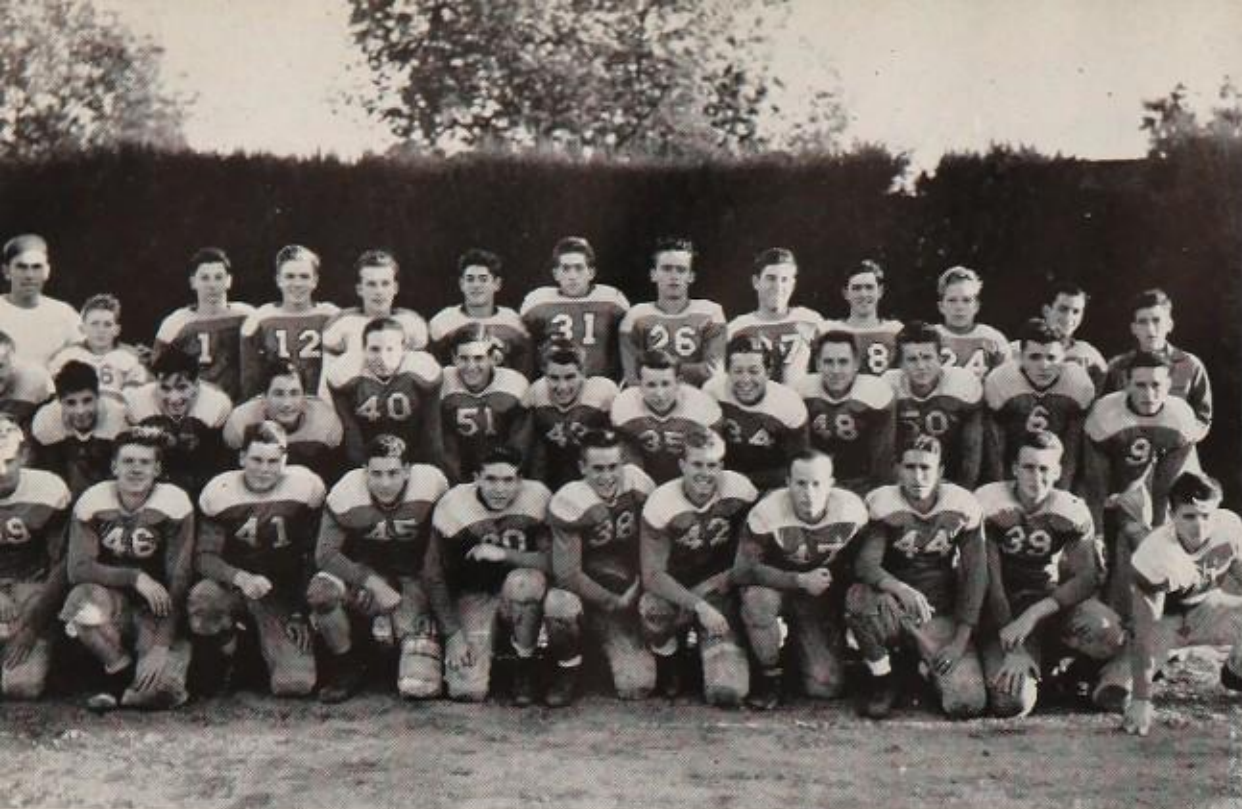

DUVALL HECHT, left tackle, played consistently alert ball throughout the season, charging and tackling well on defense and hitting and blocking hard on offense.

AL KAVICH, working the running guard spot, was the line's hardest and best blocker, and his excellent play stood out in every game.

CAPTAIN HUGH KNOX, dangerous both as a passer and a runner, earned his third lightweight letter and was the champs' best all around player.

FRED WOLCOTT, performing at end, sparkled in every game with his defensive play and was the team's outstanding pass receiver.

Bee

Coach Al Klein this year developed one of the strongest bee football teams in the history of the school. Coasting through eight straight contests without a setback, the Norbabes scored 125 points to their opponents' 26. The all letterman backfield of Captain and Quarterback Hugh Knox, Left-half Walt Wentz, Right-half Mitchell Cleary, and Fullback Merritt Van Sant spelled power. At the start of the season Coach Klein had two lettermen on the line, Guard Al Kavich and End Fred Wolcott. Added to these were newcomers Ralph Tandowsky, a wingman; Duvall Hecht and Dave Willardson, at tackle; Guard Don Wolf, who developed into the squad's most rugged lineman; and steady Ronny Carpenter at center.

In their first game the locals swamped Burbank, 25-0, with Knox, Cleary, Van Sant, and Bob Ward scoring touchdowns. In the next game Beverly bowled over Santa Ana, 9-0. Knox scored from the one yard line in the first quarter, and later in the game Wolcott smashed through the defense to block a Saint punt on the two yard line and make the safety. The Norbabes ran up their third victory at the expense of Mark Keppel, 13-6. Cleary scored in the first and last quarters on jaunts of thirty and twenty yards.

In their first league game the lightweights downed Santa Monica, 13-6. The bees tallied on Cleary's 49 yard sprint and Knox's smash-over from the two. The Norbabes stood one step closer to Bay League supremacy the next week as they outclassed Leuzinger, 42-6. With powerful Wentz lugging the ball it was a case of an overpowering running attack. In a mid-season practice game Compton fell before the Kleinmen, 13-8. The next week the bee pigskinners edged out a slim 7-0 victory over Inglewood. The lone tally came on a pass from Captain Knox to Van Sant in the end zone.

Clinching their undisputed Bay League championship, Coach Klein's pride and joys waded through Redondo, 13-0, in a hard fought game. Scoring both touchdowns, Knox paced the victors in their final game. It was the defensive play of the team, however, that shone during the entire contest. Savage tackling by Kavich and Knox made the Seahawks fumble twice when it seemed they were on their way to sure scores, and each time these fumbles were recovered by alert Beverly ballhawks Carpenter and Dick Williams. It was the entire line that really saved the day as it held the Red and White for four long downs on their own three yard line.

At the opening of the second half Wolf blocked a Redondo punt on their ten; from there Knox went over for the first score. In the final stanza it was Wolf again setting up the touchdown, this time intercepting a Seahawk pass. Knox took the ball up the field on four straight plays and scored from the eight.

In Bob Ward, Sandy MacKinnon, Les Sussman, and Sam Grossman Klein had a potent reserve backfield. On the line Ends Bob Bacon, Marlo Jarman, and Tom O'Leary saw action, as did Tackles Jim Edwards and Frank Baldwin. Guards Steve Glick and Dick Williams and Center Myron Jarman completed the second string. Showing lots of promise for next year was freshman Jay Sandrich at the quarterback spot.

Varsity

This year's varsity casaba squad could be classified as only fair from the season's record, yet until graduation robbed Coach Hal Bacon of three first stringers, the team was by far the most potent in the Bay League and would undoubtedly have won the league championship.

At the beginning of the practice season Coach Bacon's starting line up consisted of Captain Jim Powers and Dick Robbins at the forward positions, Jack Cameron at center, and Sandy Bothman and Leroy Cunningham at guards. In the first game of the season Beverly bowed to Dorsey, 50-47, as Cameron broke the varsity scoring record of 22 points by plunking 26 through the hoop. Cameron again led the way, this time with 16 points, as the Baconmen drubbed Mount Carmel, 35-22. The locals were then downed by Long Beach Poly and next by Burbank, 36-29, as Cunningham, Robbins, and Bothman played fine ball. Loyola succeeded in tripping the Normans, 31-29. A flu riddled squad dropped its next game to Santa Barbara and then was eliminated in the first round of the Compton pre-loop tournament by Long Beach Wilson.

The next week, despite Robbins' 15 points, Alhambra edged the Normans, 34-33. Jim Hurry took up his position as a regular starter, taking Cunningham's spot at guard when Leroy left school. Tasting victory again, Beverly thumped Long Beach Wilson and gained revenge for the tournament defeat by a score of 39-29.

Raising the curtain on the Bay League contests, the Norman quintet finally started playing the type of ball of which they were capable, as Powers scored 13 points to lead in the downing of Leuzinger, 30-23. Cameron rang the bell for 21 in the second league counter with El Segundo, 31-20. Tightening their league lead, the casabateers scored a sound victory over Inglewood, 29-19. In the next game Beverly handed Santa Monica its only defeat, 34-17, the defensive play of Powers sparkling as he held Samohi's star forward Snyder to six points. Playing good ball throughout these games was Selvyn Bleifer, who stepped into Robbins' position at forward when Dick sustained an injury in the Leuzinger contest, which kept him out of action. In Powers' and Cameron's last game before graduation the Normans sank the Redondo Seahawks, 42-26, as Jack dropped in 22 points.

Electing Bothman their new captain, the hoopmen beat Leuzinger, 21-20, in the second round of play. Taking over their new starting positions this game were George Kavanagh at center and Harris Sherline, Ken Bleifer, and Ed Artzt alternating at the remaining forward slot. Handed their first league loss, Beverly bowed to El Segundo, 39-29, and then to Inglewood, 32-28. The Bleifer boys led the scoring in both these games, Selvyn sinking 10 in the El Segundo fracas and Ken making 12 in the Sentinel game. Santa Monica this time outclassed the locals, 42-25, to cinch the championship. Bringing the season to an end, Redondo gained a second place tie with Beverly by dropping the Baconmen, 31-25.

Varsity Basketball Players

JACK CAMERON, the center who holds both bee and varsity high point records, continued his basketball career by breaking the school record with 26 points.

CAPTAIN SANDY BOTHMAN performed dependably and steadily at his guard spot and fully deserved the confidence of his teammates when they elected him their captain.

JIM HURRY, playing guard, rounded out into an all-around player by the end of the season and should be a standout next year.

DICK ROBBINS, who played forward, consistently made his shots, played an air-tight defensive game, and was generally a headache to the opposition.

SELVYN BLEIFER, who subbed and later became a regular forward, proved after mid-season to be the main Beverly scoring threat and played fine ball.

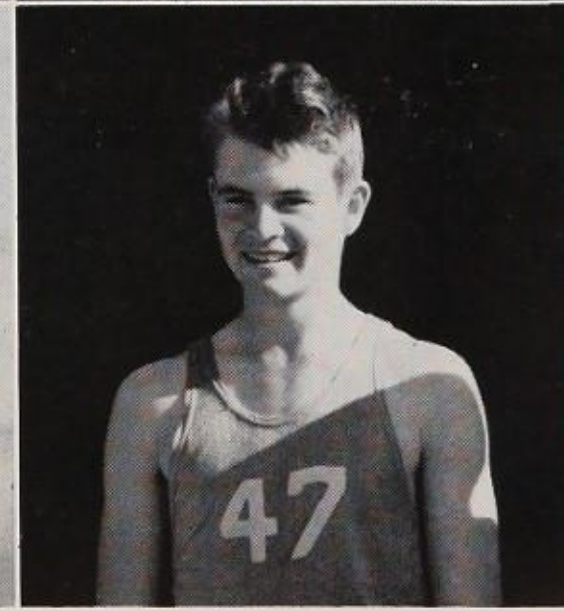

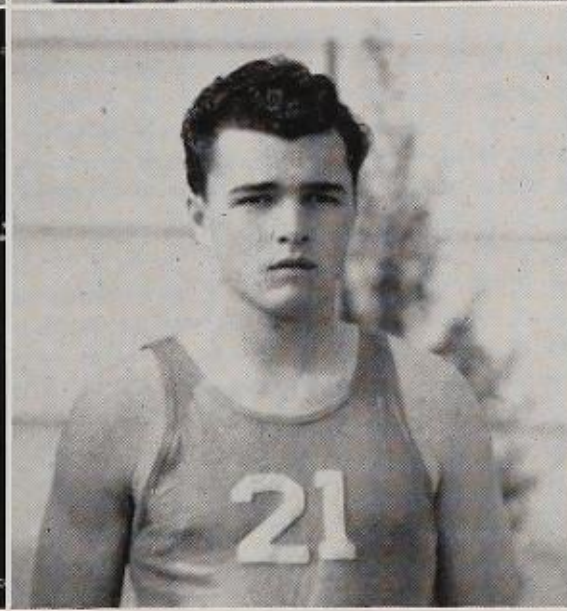

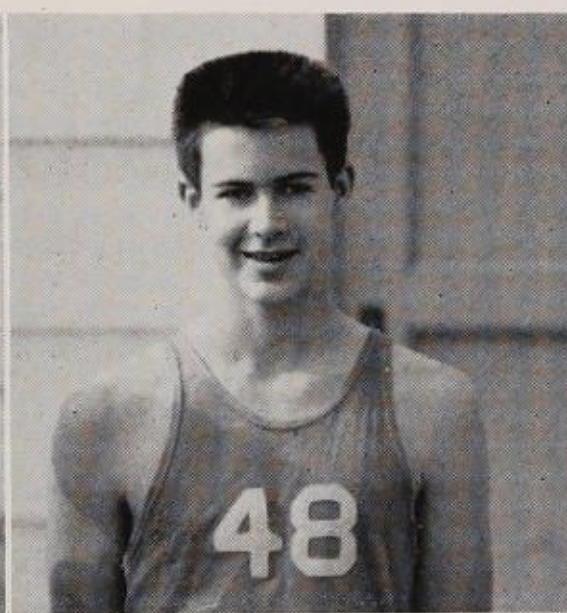

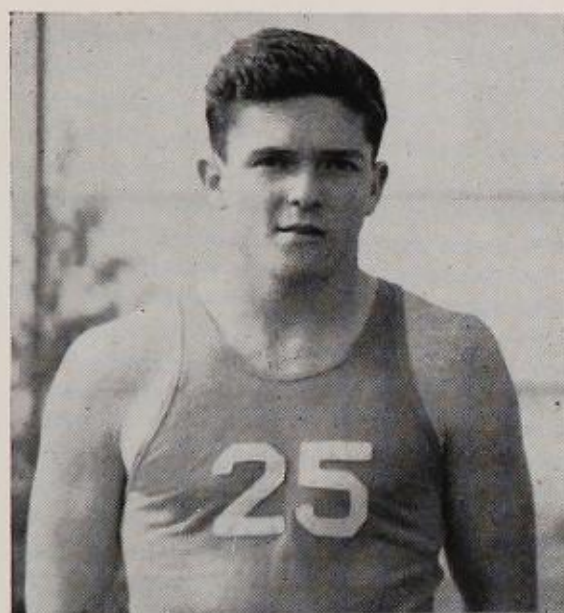

CAPTAIN JIM POWERS, forward, was the team's steadiest and coolest player. Tops as a leader and all around player, Jim never had a bad game.

Bee Basketball Players

MITCHELL CLEARY, a fast, aggressive forward, was the team's most consistent high scorer in addition to being a good defensive man.

BOB BACON, playing center, proved his value as a defensive player. He specialized in controlling the backboard and was also a deft ball handler.

DONN MEEDER, forward, was a consistent scoring threat and his 16 points in the Burbank game were the highest scored by one player all season.

CAPTAIN LESLIE LISCOLM, in his first year of bee basketball, performed at guard and was an excellent leader and all-around player.

TOM O'LEARY, holding down a guard spot, was both a tight defensive and steady offensive player, showing real promise for future teams.

BOB WARD won his first basketball letter playing guard and proved a better than average player, showing steady improvement throughout the season.

Bee Basketball

Winding up with a second place in the Bay League standings, Coach Hal Bacon's bee basketball team went through an up and down season, but for the most part came out on top and was always a hard team to defeat. Coach Bacon had two teams of almost even strength which he played as complete units. The first team was composed of Mitchell Cleary and Donn Meeder at the forward positions, Bob Bacon at center, and Tom O'Leary and Captain Les Liscom at the guard spots. The second team boasted Forwards Tom Jones and Art Stein, Center Carl Whittenberg, and Guards Bob Ward and either Bert Levin or Dave Willardson.

The Norbabes lost their first game to Dorsey, 38-26, and then whipped Mt. Carmel, 18-15. These games were followed by a loss to Long Beach Poly, and a 37-34 win over Burbank as Meeder hit the hoop for 16 points. Loyola measured the bees easily, 29-20, after which the Bacon-boys took a 32-30 setback from Alhambra and a 39-29 defeat by Long Beach Wilson.

It was a different story in the Bay League tilts as Beverly bowled over Leuzinger, 24-15, and then edged El Segundo, 26-25, with Cleary leading the way in both games as high point man. The only loss in the first round of play was at the hands of Inglewood, 37-25, followed by a win over Santa Monica and a 31-23 victory over Redondo.

In the second round of play the lightweights, sparked by Stein's 16 markers, again dropped Leuzinger, 46-20, only to lose a heartbreaker to El Segundo, 30-29. The Norbabes easily subdued Inglewood this time to the tune of 35-28 and then polished off Samohi, 31-24. In the crucial match of the season to determine the league supremacy the Redondo Seahawks battered down the locals 29-25.

Cee Basketball

Dee Basketball

Going through a successful season, this year's cee basketball team, coached by Bob Chambers, wound up Bay League champs. In the first league tilt the cees, led by Captain Sandy MacKinnon at forward, edged Leuzinger, 16-15; this they followed by waxing El Segundo, 27-10. Inglewood was then beaten, 12-10, and Santa Monica fell, 9-5. In the last game Redondo dropped the midget-men, 22-11, but in winning the Seahawks used an illegal player and so forfeited the Bay League championship to the local cees.

Cee letter winners were MacKinnon, Dick Bordy, Dean Foelle, Roger Elander, Chuck Jacobson, Jerry Kessler, Skip Nicholson, Ira Pauly, Dave Peterson, Jack Skinner, Frank Ulf, and Fred Van Drootan.

Coach Chambers' dee basketball team took a third place in Bay League. Leuzinger, El Segundo, and Inglewood were beaten in quick succession, with Captain Ted Grossman hitting the hoop for 15 points in the El Segundo game. The dees succumbed to both Santa Monica and Redondo.

Dee squadmen were Grossman, Bill Bacon, Jules Cabeen, Malcolm Crosby, Andy McGhee, Milton Miller, Larry Robbins, Pete Simons, Norman Snyder, and Alan Westmiller.

Beverly again sponsored the Fourth Annual Invitational Basketball Tournament held on February 21 and 22. Sixteen of the top casaba teams in the Southland participated in the tournament.

El Segundo, Long Beach Wilson, Inglewood, Beverly Hills, Santa Monica, Leuzinger, Redondo, and San Diego Hoover were all eliminated in the first round of play, while San Bernardino, San Diego, Long Beach Poly, and El Monte were beaten in the second round. In the semi-finals South Pasadena defeated Anaheim, 36-29, and Santa Barbara downed Glendale, 29-25. Led by Cecil Neal and Alan Lamont, the Santa Barbara team won the championship and the unofficial C.I.F. title by dropping South Pasadena, 35-32, in a last minute drive.

The Normans were eliminated in the first round by Anaheim, 42-31. Awarded gold basketballs were members of the All-Tournament team picked by the referees, consisting of Cecil Neal of Santa Barbara and Tom Riach of Glendale, forwards; Santa Barbara's Alan Lamont, center; and Hugh Stewart and Wayne Tucker of South Pasadena, guards.

Varsity Track

Claiming two victories throughout the season, a weak Beverly varsity took a fifth place in the Bay League track finals, a point behind Leuzinger and a point and a half behind Santa Monica. With little reserve strength the varsity suffered dual meet losses to Los Angeles, Glendale Hoover, Redondo — Bay League victor — and Inglewood, but finally hit the win column by toppling Leuzinger and El Segundo in a three way meet and then defeating Santa Monica. The next week the thin clads placed third in the annual Inglewood Relays.

Although the squad itself was not strong, veteran coach Charles Brown did produce several standouts who turned in fine performances all season. Captain John Stephens was the leading scorer and main threat, ripping off times of 10.1 in the 100 and 22.3 in the 220. Sophomore Bill Storum is the boy to watch in coming seasons. This year in the league finals he nabbed a second in the high hurdles and a third in the lows, and his best times were 26 flat and 16.1. Coach Brown also had three bees, Merritt Van Sant, Fred Wolcott, and Mitchell Cleary, whom he often ran varsity and who strengthened the team considerably. Wolcott was tops in the pole vault and in winning this event in the bee league finals he did 12 feet 2½ inches not only to break the bee Bay League and school records, but to do a better mark than the winning varsity height. Van Sant had the best marks in both the high-jump and broad-jump with 5 feet 10 inches and 21 feet 1 inch respectively.

These are the other best varsity times and marks: Lane Blank, mile, 4:57.1; Hal Reeser, 440, 54.8; Bob Ewing, 880, 2:08.2; shot put, 45 feet; Chuck Weisstein, shot put, 45 feet 6 inches; Conrad Schweitzer, shot put, 44 feet; Jack Vogelsang, high-jump, 5 feet 9 inches; pole vault, 11 feet 3 inches; Stephens, Reeser, Storum, and Don MacKinnon, 880 relay, 1:36.

With this season's championship bee team moving up, the outlook for next season is brighter than it has been for several years. Coach Brown plans to have the best field events squad he has had in a long time in addition to much power in the sprints and hurdles.

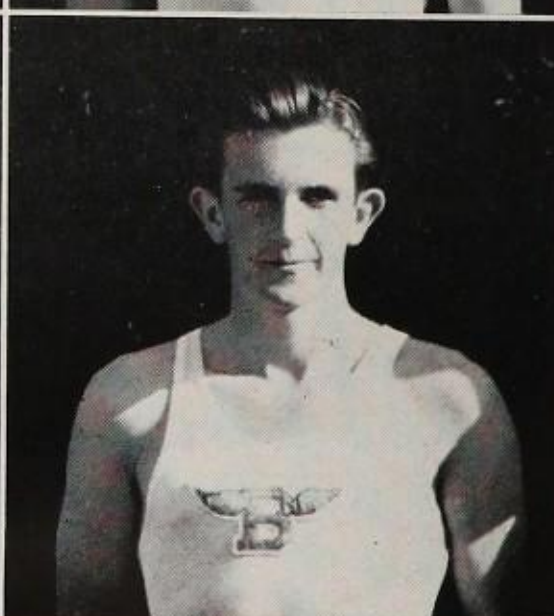

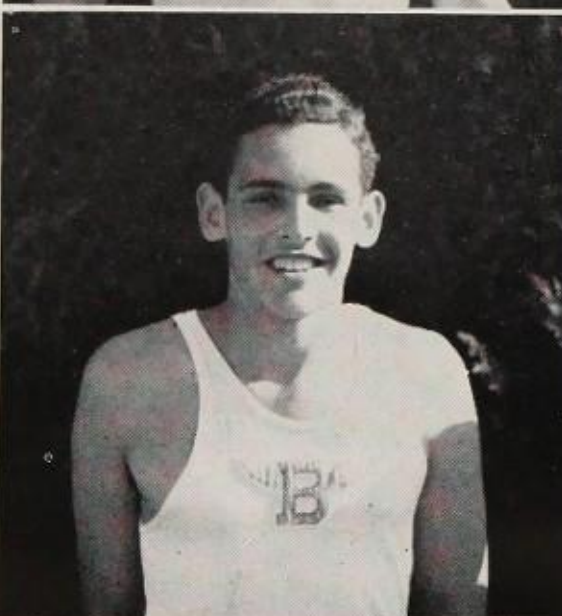

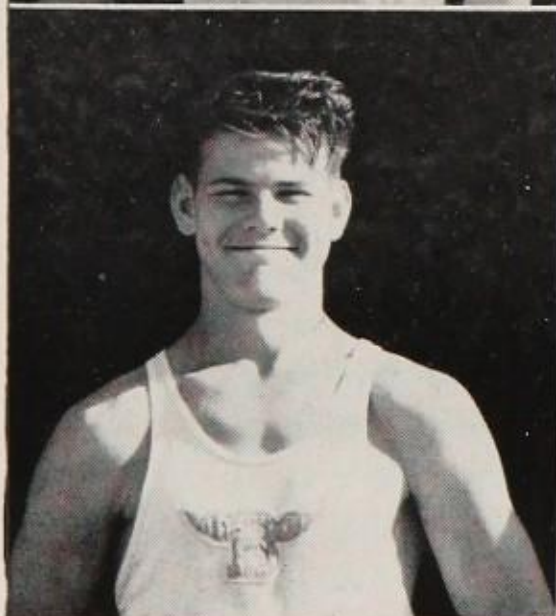

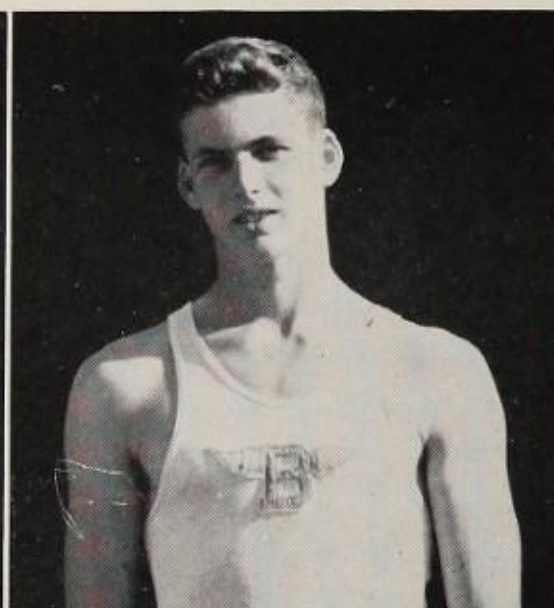

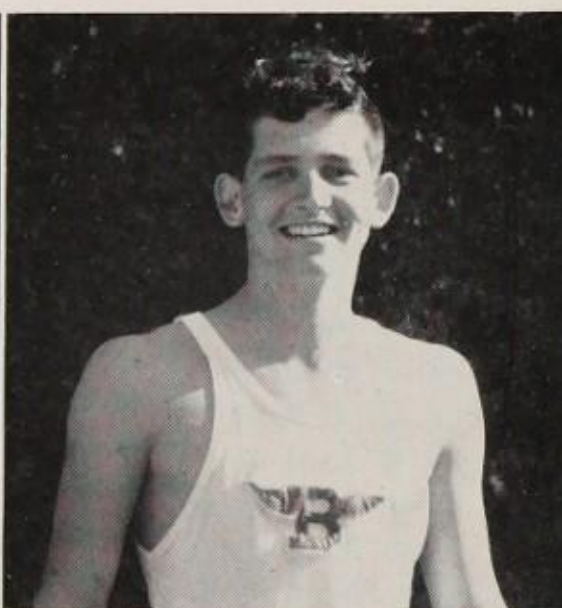

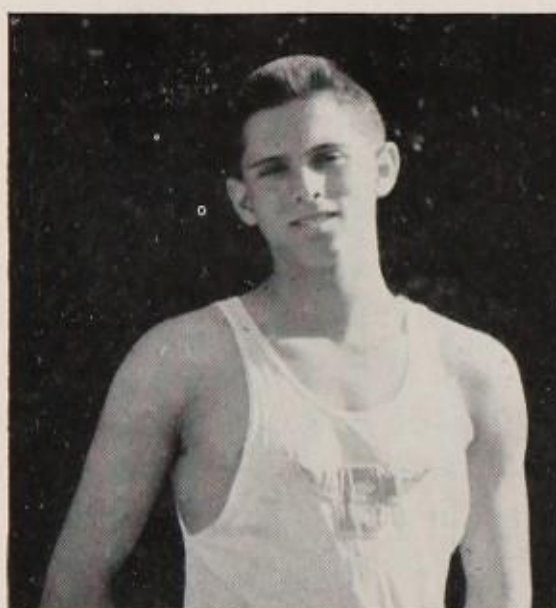

Coach Charles Brown

Track Players

Varsity Captain JOHN STEPHENS was the team's most valuable member and an inspirational leader, in addition to being a great sprinter.

HAL REESER, up from last year's bee team, made his letter running the 440 and was also a member of the varsity relay.

JACK VOGELSANG made his first varsity letter this year as a pole vaulter and developed into one of the best Beverly vaulters in recent years.

BILL STORUM, only a sophomore, made his second varsity letter as the team's best hurdler, excelling in both the high and low barrier races.

LANE BLANK, one of the hardest workers and most improved member of the squad, rounded out into a good miler and a consistent point winner.

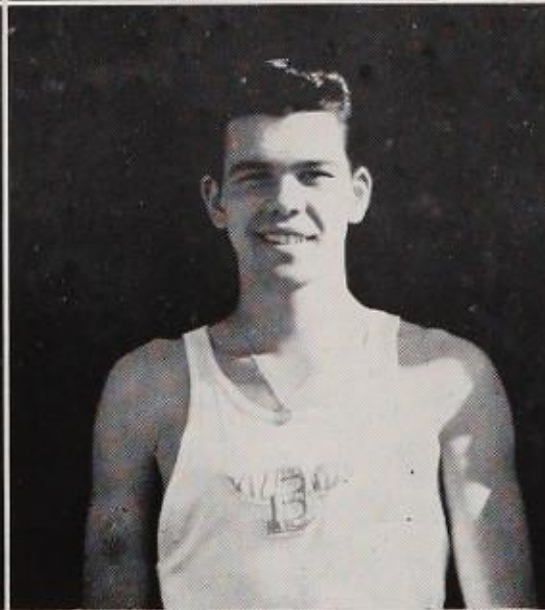

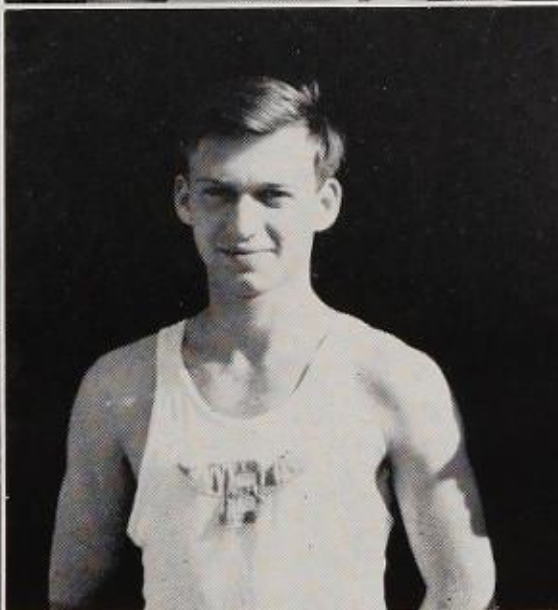

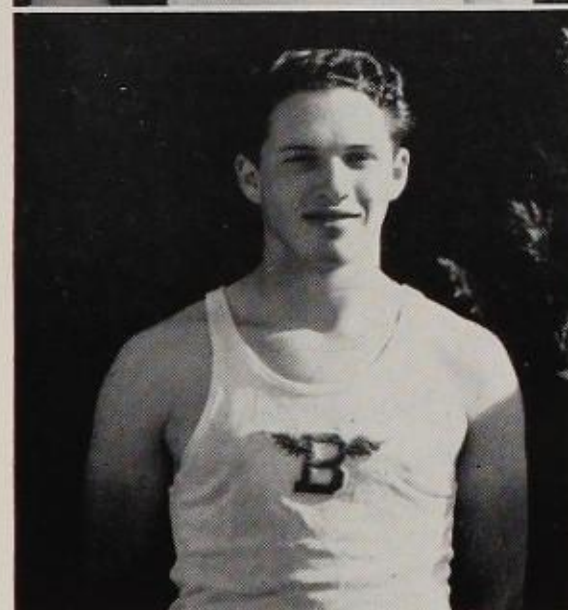

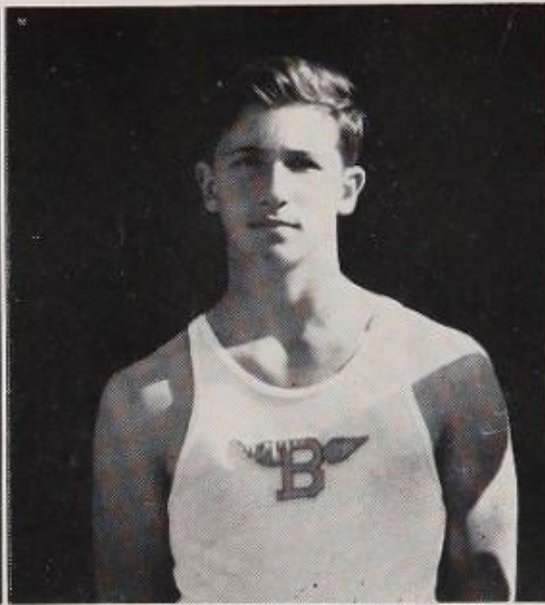

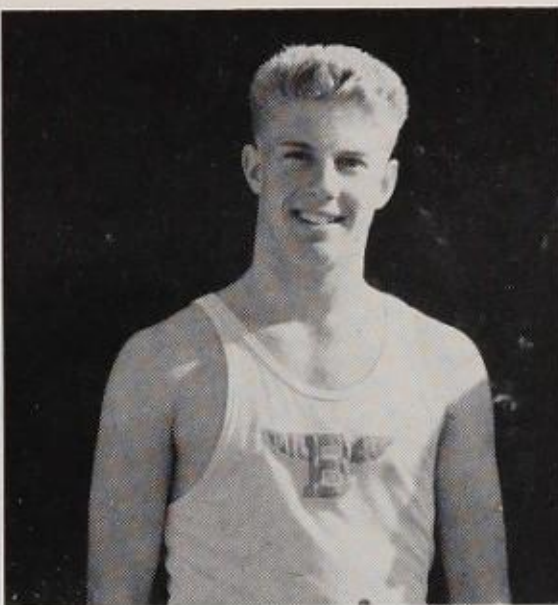

JOE SPECHT won his first track letter as a bee 660 man and showed up so well that on occasion he ran varsity.

Track Players

MITCHELL CLEARY, serving as bee co-captain, made his third varsity letter this season and was tops in both of the light-weight sprints.

MERRITT VAN SANT, elected bee co-captain, made his second varsity letter and was the team's outstanding broad-jumper and high-jumper.

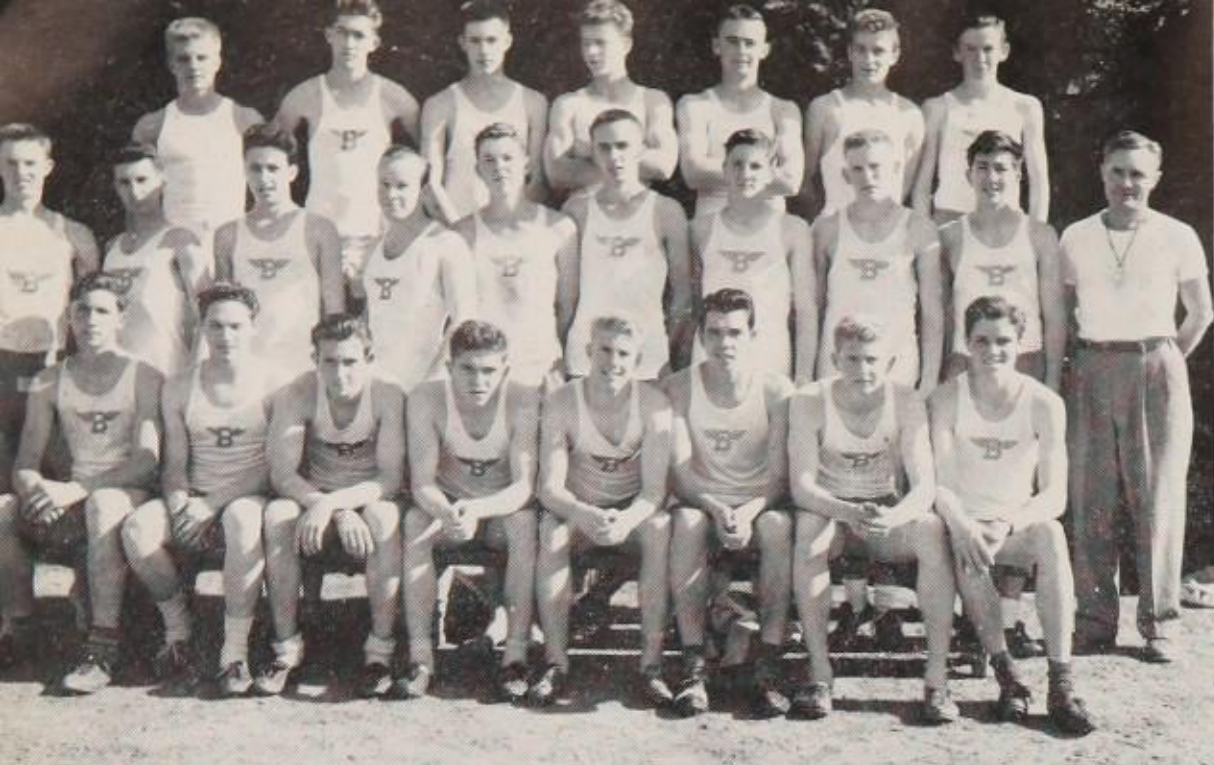

JULIAN WEISSTEIN came up from last year's cees to become a valuable link of the bee team and was always dependable in the shot put.

DICK WILLIAMS hit consistently good marks in the shot put to win his second bee numeral and was a steady point winner in every meet.

Cee Captain GEORGE HEXTER proved himself one of the finest midget runners in the school's history and was particularly outstanding in the 50 yard dash.

DOUG FARRELL was far above the average this season as he made his second bee letter with steady performances in the high and low hurdles.

Bee Track

Cee Track

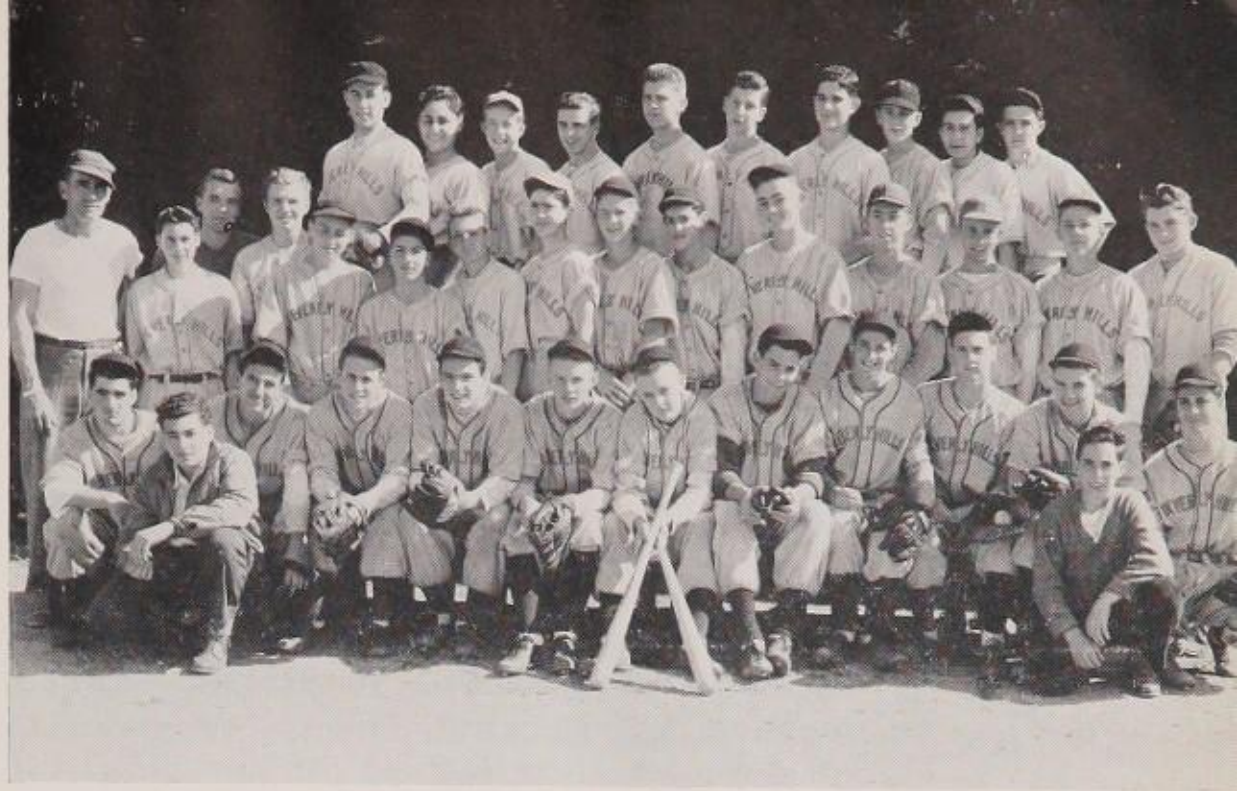

The bee squad was a real powerhouse and easily won the Bay League championship. In dual meets the boys tumbled Los Angeles, Redondo, Leuzinger, and El Segundo but were edged by Glendale Hoover, Inglewood, and Santa Monica.

Winners in the league finals were Mitchell Cleary with a 10.2 100 and a 22.3 220; Merritt Van Sant in the broad-jump and the low hurdles with 13.7; Jim Parks who did 9.6 to nab the high hurdles; and Ed Willumson with 5 feet 9 inches in the high-jump. Other point winners were Doug Farrell, Palmer Klein, Jack Sage, Jo Specht, Pete Oppenheim, Dick Williams, Julian Weisstein, and Ralph Tandowsky.

The cees gained a tie for second with Inglewood in the League finals. During the season they trampled Inglewood, Leuzinger, El Segundo, and Santa Monica and were beaten by only Glendale Hoover and Redondo. The squad rated a second in the Inglewood relays.

Captain George Hexter went undefeated throughout the entire season, tied the school record of 5.8 in the 50, and won this event in the league finals. Tom Van Sant put the shot 47 feet 9 inches to win his event, while Max Koffman did the same with an 18 feet 5½ inches mark in the broad-jump and John McCarthy took second in the 100 with 10.6. Other promising cees were Marvin Dunn, Ted Morse, and Dave Peterson.

Varsity

Coach Al Klein

Baseball

Guided by Coach Al Klein, the baseball team went through a mediocre year and was expected to nab a fourth in Bay League. Playing a double round robin schedule, Klein's boys were really a better team than their record indicates. Untimely errors and lack of hitting in the pinches cost more than one game.

Starting off the League season on their home field, which is now graced by a new backstop, the locals were tripped by Santa Monica, 4-0. Playing the kind of ball they were capable of, the home club, behind the pitching of Hugh Knox, slaughtered El Segundo, 14-2, only to drop an 11-6 loss to Inglewood the next game. The next week the bat burnishers downed Redondo in a hard fought game, 5-4, with Knox again the winning pitcher. Samohi again edged the Klein men, this time 8-7. The first Leuzinger game was rained out, but in the second contest the home boys were beaten, 6-3. In the highlight game of the season sophomore Leroy Taft hurled a no hit, no run game as El Segundo was dropped, 4-0. Not one opposing player reached second base and only three men got to first sack. Inglewood then squeezed out another victory over Beverly, 1-0.

Letter winners are Jim Edwards, left field; Bob Ewing, first base; Captain John Fleming, third base; Gary Heliker, short stop; Jack Ince, pitcher; Milton Jones, third base; Hugh Knox, pitcher; Bill Lusk, left field; Jim Spitz, right field; Les Sussman, center field; Leroy Taft, pitcher; Frank Ulf, first base; Bob Ward, second base; and Don Wolf, catcher. Highest batting average went to Ward with .364.

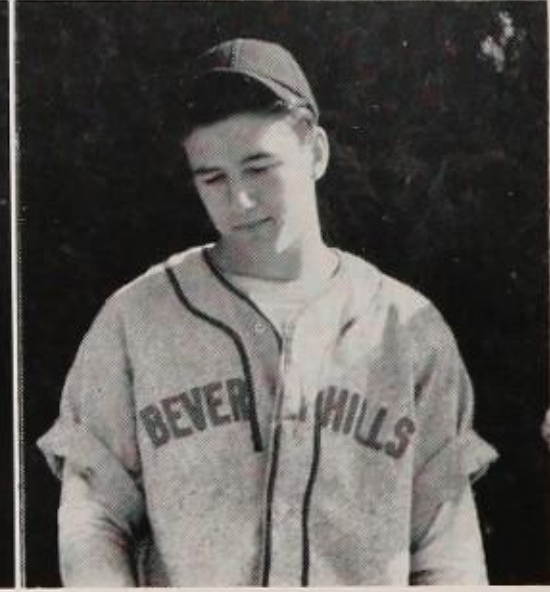

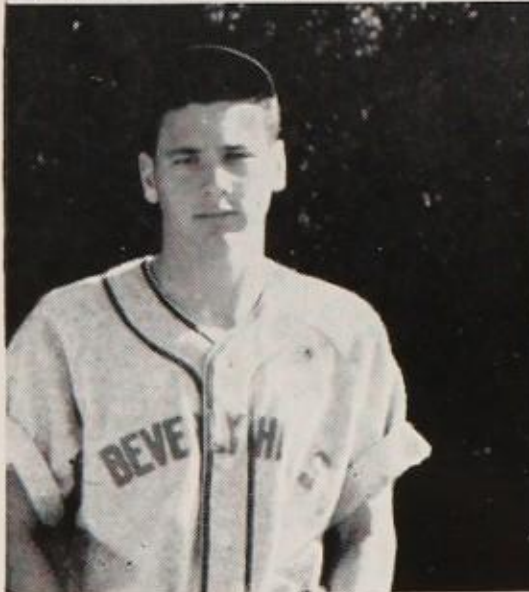

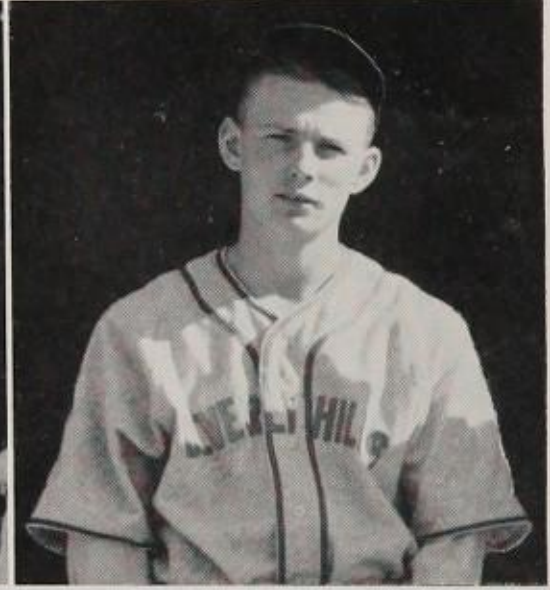

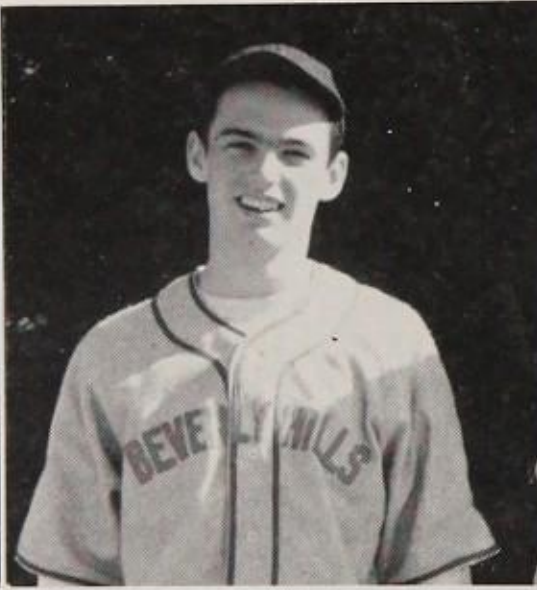

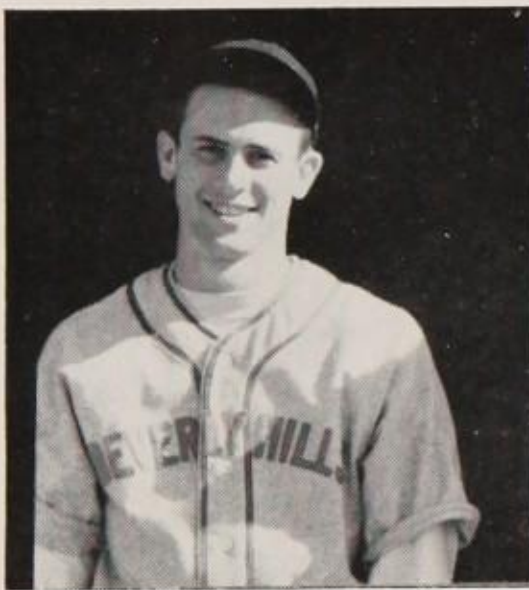

With eight of these boys returning next year, the team should be among the most powerful in the league.

Varsity

HUGH KNOX, after a year's absence from the diamond, stepped back in as pitcher and did a fine job, winning his share of games.

BILL LUSK, a returning letterman, covered left field throughout the season and displayed real talent as one of the team's leading hitters.

JACK INCE was again one of the best pitchers in the league and became one of the few four year lettermen in the history of the school.

DON WOLF, the man behind the mask, garnered his first baseball letter filling the position of catcher and played consistently alert ball.

Captain JOHN FLEMING led the baseball team this season with his consistently fine play at third base, as he earned his second letter.

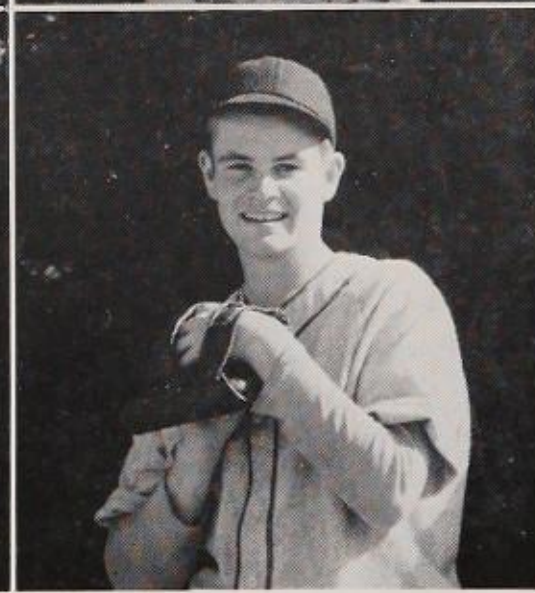

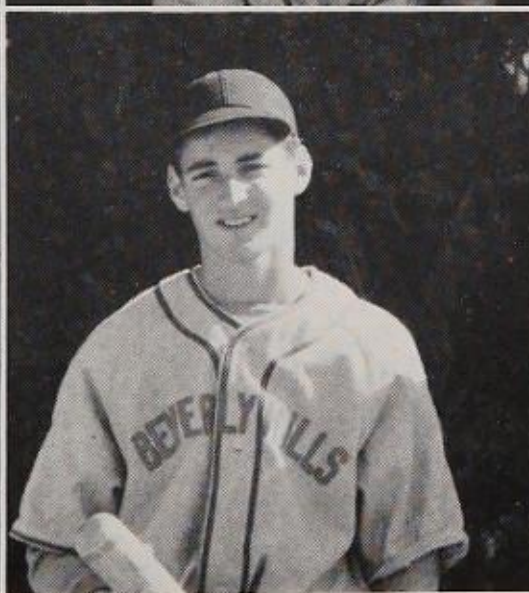

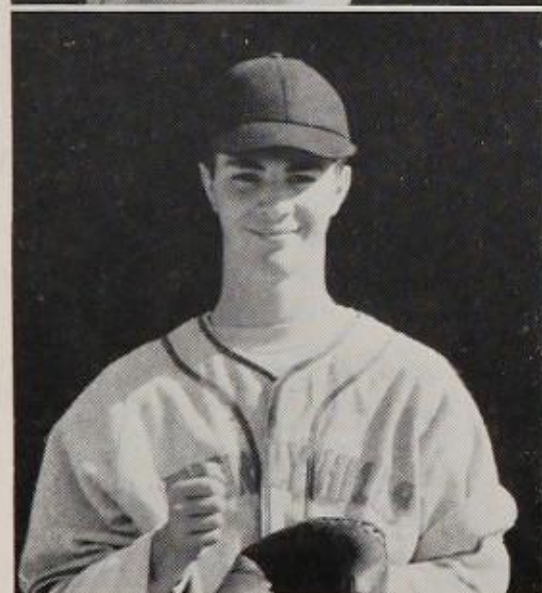

GARY HELIKER, a veteran player of two previous seasons, combined his ability as a good shortstop with some nice hitting to become a real standout.

Players

JIM EDWARDS made his first letter cavorting in right field and particularly excelled when it came to stick work, at which he was tops.

JIM SPITZ, playing his second year of ball, performed well at right field and was a true slugger and a steady player.

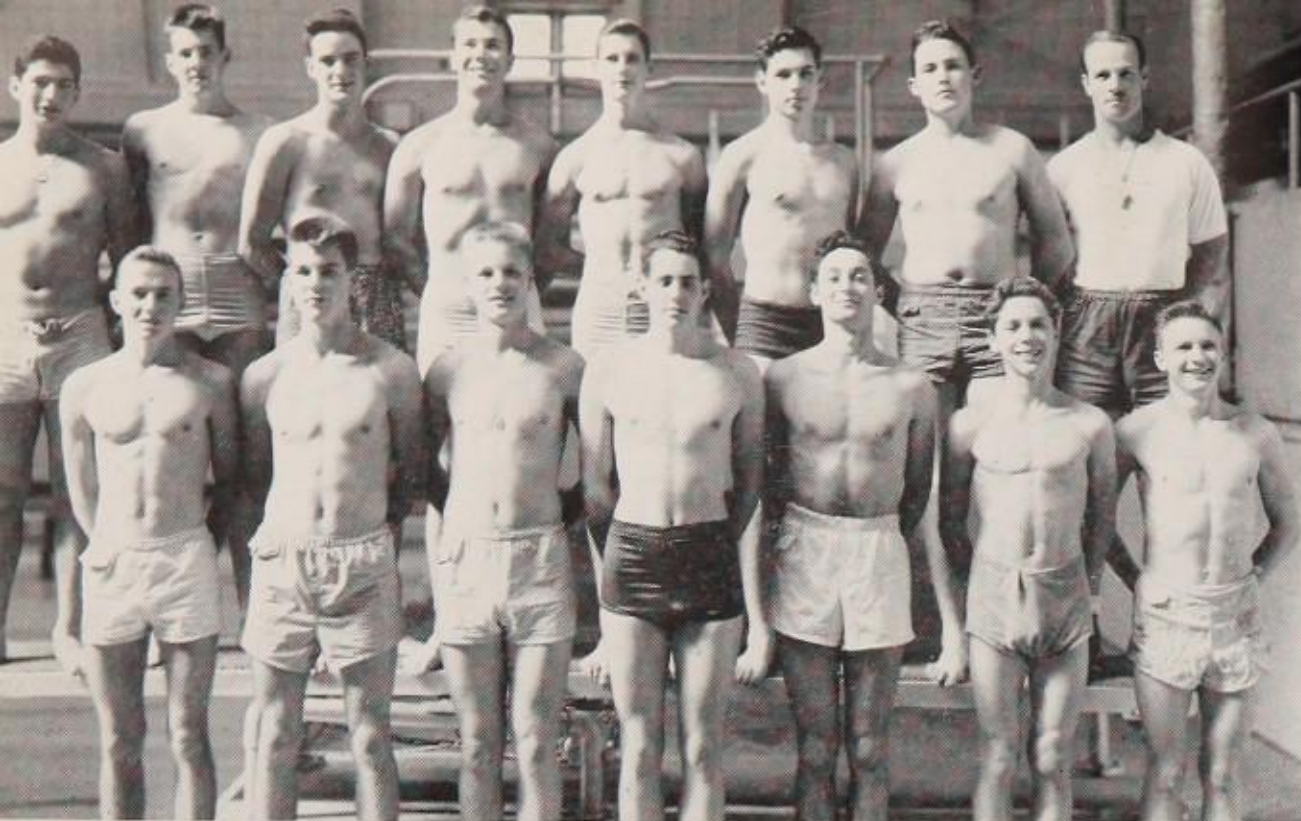

FRANK ULF, only a freshman, did a good job of holding down first base with all the skill of an older and more experienced player.

MILTON JONES stopped balls at third base and proved very adept as he gained his first letter and showed plenty of promise for next year.

LES SUSSMAN, earning his numeral for the second year, was a speedy fly hawk at center field and a better - than - average hitter.

BOB WARD, another seasoned infield player, won his third letter as second baseman and could always be counted on in the hitting department.

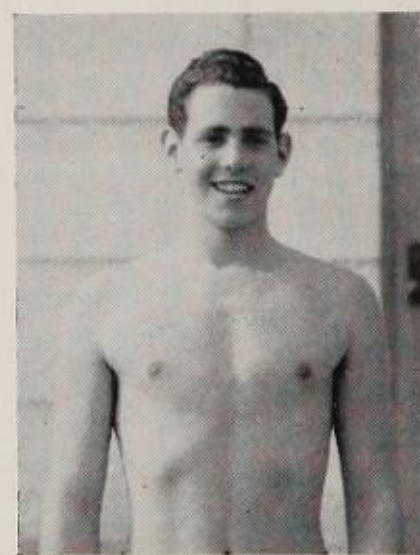

Varsity

Swimming

Coach Max Glass

Captain Bob Rifkind

Beverly's Varsity swimming team again proved to be the finest in the Southland as it won its eighth straight Bay League championship and beat every important team in the C.I.F. Doing a fine job in his first year of coaching was mentor Max Glass, who spent many long hours getting his boys into winning shape.

At the beginning of the season the Norman tankmen marked themselves as the team to beat by walking off with the Whittier Invitational Relays. They followed this up with decisive dual meet wins over Fullerton, Whittier, Los Angeles, and Santa Monica. In the Compton Invitational Meet, with two of their best men lost due to illness, the local tankmen still managed to nab a second, seven points behind Fullerton. Whittier, Inglewood, Redondo, Los Angeles, Leuzinger, and El Segundo then fell before the Norman hoards. Gaining revenge for its lone defeat of the season, Beverly sank Fullerton again by the lopsided score of 51-24. Due to their outstanding record throughout the season the Glassmen are favorites to win their fourth straight C.I.F. championship.

Standouts throughout the season were Burt Hughes, the team's top sprinter, although only a sophomore; Wally Wolf, the team's leading scorer and an undefeated winner in the 220 and individual medley; Captain Bob Rifkind, a three year letterman in the backstroke; and divers Tom Jones and Ken Harrigan. Jones won varsity C.I.F. diving last year as a freshman and is one of the favorites this year, although kept out of considerable action by a mashed hand. Harrigan is making his varsity letter as a freshman.

Herb Constine, a newcomer to the squad; Paul Keye, up from last season's bees; and Jim Boreham, one of the most improved men on the team, completed the list of sprinters. Bill Manning and Chuck Perry, converted free-stylers from the bee team, along with returning letterman Don Chalif, fortified the backstroke. Marc Monheimer, a sophomore who jumped up from last season's cees, and David Davis and Joe McCarthy, two hard working newcomers, provided the team's breaststroke threat.

The only new record was a 2:23.7 turned in by Wolf in the 220 to break the old record by two seconds. Below are listed the other best marks of the season: Hughes, 50 freestyle, 25.3; 100 freestyle, 57.2; Wolf, 75 individual medley, 45.5; Rifkind, 100 backstroke, 1:08.7; Monheimer, 100 breaststroke, 1:17; Manning, 100 backstroke, 1:11.3; Constine, 50 freestyle, 26; 100 freestyle, 59; Davis, 100 breaststroke, 1:18.5; Rifkind, Davis, Constine, 150 medley relay, 1:29.5; Boreham, Keye, Wolf, Hughes, 200 freestyle relay, 1:45.

With Hughes, Wolf, Boreham, Manning, Monheimer, Jones, and Harrigan — all varsity lettermen returning next year — Coach Glass already has the makings of another championship outfit and one that should not only produce new school records but be the strongest team ever developed at Beverly.

Bee Swimming

Cee Swimming

The bee tankmen had the second strongest squad in the league and produced many stars. Grabbing a third in the Whittier Invitational meet, the bees suffered their only dual meet loss to Whittier. Lettermen for the team were sprinters John McGhee, Fred Applegate, and Bob Berliner; backstrokers Rush Hinsdale, Bob Badham, and Bud Ernst; diver Fred Talmage; breastroker Chuck Jacobson, and distance man Dick Holland. Best recorded marks for the season were McGhee, 50 freestyle, 26.4; 100 freestyle, 1:01; Jacobson, 100 breaststroke, 1:21; Hinsdale, 100 backstroke, 1:14.9; Applegate, 220, 2:52.

Beverly's cee team ruined all opposition and had the unusual situation of having at least two good men in every event. The midgets had a perfect record of not a single defeat and in addition to winning Bay League are heavy favorites to annex the C.I.F. crown. Lettermen were Bill Inglis, Jack Skinner, and Mel Sawelson in the sprints; Bob Sherman, Dick Mohme, Andy McGhee, and Fred Jackman in the backstroke; Stan Feldman, Chuck Sill, and George Elkins in the breaststroke. Best marks for the season were Inglis, 50 freestyle, 27.2; Feldman, 50 breaststroke, 34.5; Sherman, 50 backstroke, 33.2.

Golf Team

Gym Team

Made up almost entirely of beginners, this season's golf team, coached by Hal Bacon, had only a fair record. Although results were not available, the Norman gophers expected an easy second spot in the league standings and a rating among the best five in the C.I.F. finals.

Bill Whalen and Ira Couch led the team as top players, while Dick Williams, John Suckling, Jim Hurry, and Doug Farrell completed the sextet, all of whom will be back next year and should combine to give Beverly its strongest team yet.

Climaxing a successful season, Coach Max Glass' gym team won the C.I.F. championship. The captain was tumbler and free-exercise man Cliff Scherer. High point man for the entire meet was the squad's outstanding member, Craig Nason, who won the high bar, parallel bars, and took a second on the rings. Doug Glaser won first place on the side horse, while Fred Wolcott took a second on the long horse and a fifth on the rings. Geoffrey Knight, with a second on the side horse; Art Anderson, nabbing fourth on the high bar; and Bob Sherman, taking a fifth in free-exercise, were all valuable men.

Captain Herbert Flam

Coach Jesse Gooch

Tennis

Led by Captain Herb Flam, this year's tennis team, under the tutelage of Coach Jesse Gooch for the second year, was among the strongest in the school's history, both in the individual and doubles events. At press time the team was favored to nab first place Bay League honors and was a strong contender in the C.I.F. race.

In the Dudley Cup Tournament Flam won the singles title for the third straight year to make the cup a permanent possession for Beverly. This was the second time since the tournament's origin that any one player has won the cup for three consecutive years. The doubles team of Flam and Curt Marx gained further glory for Normandy by reaching the finals of the doubles competition in the same tournament.

In Flam the tennis team had the finest player ever to grace the Norman courts, and as the squad's outstanding player for four years he was a real leader. It was not a one-man team by any means, however. Curt Marx, a three year letterman, and Norman Willner, playing his second year in varsity competition, were second and third on the team. Both of these boys had far more than average ability and together they formed a doubles combination that was among the most potent in the C.I.F. and was undefeated throughout the season.

Dick St. Johns, Don Eisenberg, Ronnie Golan, Jack Shoemaker, and Eugene Kogan played good tennis in the singles division and combined with the second doubles teams of Ernest Froelich and Larry Robbins, and Phil Colburn and Wally Marks to give the squad the much needed reserve strength so necessary for a championship outfit.

In their practice matches the racquet-men easily dumped Dorsey, Burbank, Fairfax, Mark Kepple, and Los Angeles, gained a tie with South Pasadena, and beat Santa Barbara.

With a squad of returning lettermen and experienced players coming back next year the outlook for another good team next season is extremely bright.

G.A.A.

G. A. A. presidents Eleanor Sperling and Pat Gardner worked at a year-long program to develop and improve G. A. A. social and athletic programs.

The annual Spinsters' Hop, presented by the G. A. A. on October 12, was the first school dance of the year. The gym where the dance was held was decorated with crepe-paper streamers and murals of life-size seals, tigers, camels, and caged-in lions. This atmosphere effectively carried out the circus theme.

The revision of the G. A. A. constitution was an important achievement of the second semester cabinet. With the help of Mrs. Gladys Barnett, faculty adviser to the executive board, the girls worked on the constitution so that the G. A. A. might operate with more efficiency.

During the year Beverly's G. A. A. was kept busy as secretary of the Girls' Athletic Federation, an organization of high school athletic associations representing schools from all sections of California. A spring conference of the G. A. F. was held at Redondo High School on March 23.

Eleanor Sperling, president for the first semester, was assisted by Dolores Philippi, vice-president; Pat Gardner, secretary; and Patsy Van Ronkel, publicity director. Pat Gardner served as president during the second semester, and Dolores Philippi continued in her office of vice-president. Mary Sharer worked as secretary, Margaret Cameron as publicity director, Fan Colt as decorations chairman, and Gwen Carey as membership chairman.

The managers of the various sports worked hard to put their squads on top. Betty Springmeyer served as manager of the tennis team, and Dolores Philippi directed basketball, while Meredith Manning managed the riding club, and Pat Gardner worked as president of the Aquabelles.

Aquabelles

In an array of colorful clowns and fun the annual aquacade was presented on November 17 under Beverly's own big top. The swim gym program, with its gay circus theme, was sponsored by the P. T. A.

Under the direction of Miss Janet Patey and Miss Dorothy Verhaar, coaches, forty-four Aquabelles rehearsed every afternoon in preparation for the event. Because membership in the group was limited, each girl had to pass a swimming test to qualify.

A circus parade around the edge of the pool set the mood for the water ballet. Pat Gardner and Jody Simmons each performed a solo. A comedy duo by Meredith Manning and Mary Sharer, an Oriental number by Joan Giaver and Mrs. Dorothy Verhaar, and a duo by Margery Jacobs and Ann Reiss were featured. A side show, which boasted of a sword swallower, a strong man, a circus barker, a fat lady, midgets, Turkish dancers, and many other circus freaks, added atmosphere. These characters were enacted by well-known campus personalities.

The Aquabelles appeared in an assembly on November 15. The purpose of the assembly was to advertise the aquacade to the student body. In addition to the Aquabelles' routine the assembly included several competitive novelty relays. Last summer the Aquabelles presented three numbers at a Fourth-of-July program held at a well-known swimming club. The girls, together with many champion swimmers and popular musical artists, took part in the celebration.

Aquabelle officers for the year were Pat Gardner, president; Betty Santley, vice-president; Ann Reiss, secretary; and Liz Barbe, treasurer.

Basketball

G. A. A. basketball coaches Marjorie Sturges and Lila Stainbrook were rewarded for their season's efforts by producing a championship squad this year. Manager Dolores Philippi and her able assistant Bettye Fewel contributed exceptional playing and leadership to help make their team one of the best in G. A. A. history.

The girls won four of the six games they played, losing to Marlborough and Santa Monica High School in two hard-fought games. Samohi downed Beverly with only a 4-point edge, while the Marlborough squad stacked up 30 points to Beverly's 19.

The release of gasoline and transportation facilities enabled teams of more distant schools to play the local squad and increased the amount of competition. For the first time in several years San Jacinto and Santa Barbara journeyed to Normandy's courts. Both went home defeated. A lead of 8 points in the San Jacinto game and of 19 points in the Santa Barbara game made Beverly the victor. After each of these games the Beverly team played hostess to its opponents at a swim and a luncheon.

The U. C. L. A. women's team was overcome twice by the local gals. In the first game, which was played on the home courts, the final score read 31-21. Beverly improved this record by outplaying the university team for the second time to the tune of 25-12. The teams clashed on the U. C. L. A. courts for this second game, giving the Beverly players an opportunity to acquaint themselves with a large university gym. A swim in the U. C. L. A. pool was enjoyed after the Norman victory.

The first team, led by Captain Sandy Seeley, and boasting of Gwen Carey, Lou Ann Davies, Bettye Fewel, Janet Inglis, Dolores Philippi, Marilyn Silman, and Joan Snyder, claims the glory of a championship squad. Second team enthusiasts Louise Gilmore, Margery Jacobs, Aljean Levin, Gerry Mayer, Ann Reiss, Lianne Schroeder, Mary Sharer, and Captain Ann Clifford also played good games.

Tennis Team

Participation on the tennis ladder is the best way for a girl to work up to the team. Because the ladder is divided into four sections, even beginners may take part by signing up for the lowest level, the D ladder. When a player gets a position on the A ladder, she is eligible to try out for the tennis team.

This year's tennis team, coached by Marjorie Sturges and managed by Betty Springmeyer, proved to be an excellent squad. The majority of the players will be back next season. Other than official Bay League competition the female net demons played in many practice matches, such as the Los Angeles County Playday matches at Griffith Park. Several of the girls also entered the Dudley Cup matches held at Santa Monica in April.

Terpsi- choreans

The Terpsichorean club, organized by Nancy Birnbaum, is Beverly's new dance group. The name is derived from that of Terpsichore, who was the muse of dancing and choral song in Greek mythology. With Mrs. Lila Stainbrook working as the sponsor, the club rehearsed together for public performances and made an extensive study of dancing.

Music, social development, costumes, stage lighting, and choreography were all stressed. Special emphasis was given to modern dance trends. The Terpsichoreans hope to perfect their work so that they will be able to perform at many school assemblies, dramatic productions, and club affairs.

Under the student leadership of Meredith Manning and Aljean Levin the G. A. A. riding group met every Saturday at the Leo Dupee stables. Monthly breakfast rides, bareback competition, novelty riding contests, and monthly point shows are some of the activities in which the girls took part. With Miss Janet Patey as their sponsor twenty equestriennes participated in the club. The annual banquet in June ended the season.

Watchtower

To record a written and pictorial account of the most memorable events of the school year is the main task of the Watchtower editorial staff. Temporarily hampered by post-war material and labor shortages, members of the staff surmounted the obstacles to produce an annual matching the high standards set by preceding yearbooks.

The top post, that of editor-in-chief, was efficiently handled by Eleanor Knecht. Betty Springmeyer administered the duties of proof editor, while Mary Downs handled the position of photography editor. Vic Palmieri supervised the administration and feature sections. Leah Stoller compiled the material for the activity division, while Ann Friedman and Patsy Van Ronkel worked together on the classes. Gerry Curley and Sonnia Stangle headed the portion on clubs. Bob Rifkind wrote the boys' sports; Virginia Jones, the girls'. Dick DeRoy and Betty Stauffer completed the editorial staff in their capacity as co-business managers.

Miss Ruth M. Wheeler is the faculty adviser of the annual. Her encouragement and aid have been largely responsible for the success of the 1946 Watchtower.

PAT BERGER
Editor

After the medieval Norman theme was selected at a joint meeting of the WATCHTOWER editorial and art staffs, the various positions were appointed by Mr. Bryant M. Hale, art adviser. Then the imagination and talent of the art students were put to work to create old Normandy scenes which would tie in with school life.

Pat Berger officiated in the capacity of art editor. Bob Gamble took charge of the division sheets, while Betty Siegel supervised the cutting. Pat Elliott and Irving Marx handled the lettering, and Bob Powell was staff photographer. Tom Echternach, Bob Herts, and Steffi Weil originated the cartoons, while Morgan Thieme designed the background for the calendar and other scenes. The remaining eight students — Marla Cantor, Hilde Carsten, Mary Harrigan, Sally Kruegar, Marlyn Mitchell, Diane Pitman, Jane Somlyo, and Barbara Vance — were assigned to mounting.

Tackling the post of WATCHTOWER art adviser for the first time, Mr. Hale spurred on the staff by his enthusiasm and originality, while Mrs. Lucille Robert helped the staff succeed by her cooperation.

Highlights

Room 137, officially known as the Highlights office, distinguishes itself by a perpetual state of activity, by harassed cub reporters, and by an industrious senior staff. Although they momentarily complain about necessary last-minute changes, the staff will long remember the satisfaction gained by seeing their work in print.

Eleanor Knecht, as editor-in-chief for the first semester, deserves credit for her excellent job of assembling and planning each edition. Upon the shoulders of the page editors fall the responsibilities of arranging the layouts, assigning stories, and correcting copy. Bob Rifkind supervised first page; Judy Freedman, second page; Melvin Isaacson and Patsy Van Ronkel, third page; Jack Ince and Bob Strock, sports page. Four columns were printed in the HIGHLIGHTS. June Johnson authored "From the Fronts"; Sonnia Stangle, "Club News"; Joan Kleefeld, "Norman Nomad"; Melvin Isaacson, "What's on My Mind." In the city papers two reporters, Mary Downs and Leah Stoller, edited columns. Ann Friedman was news correspondent for the local papers; John Fleming and Roy Shainberg, sports correspondents. Vic Palmieri, public relations manager, mailed copy to the city papers. As staff photographer, Morton Greenspoon supplied school pictures for all the papers. From the art department Dave Lauren and Steffi Weil submitted cartoons and comic strips for publication. Members of the business staff included Melvin Isaacson and Patsy Van Ronkel, advertising; Ann Friedman, bookkeeping; Leah Stoller, circulation.

Highlights

JUDY FREEDMAN
Editor-in-chief

To obtain experience in as many phases of journalism as possible, staff members changed positions in February. Judy Freedman ably took over the duties of editor-in-chief. Ann Friedman and Leah Stoller edited first page; June Jonhson and Sonnia Stangle handled second page; Joan Kleefeld supervised third page; and Don MacKinnon managed the sports page. Those who wrote columns for the HIGHLIGHTS included Bill Fore, author of "Fore!"; Morton Greenspoon, Club News; Melvin Isaacson, "What's On My Mind?"; Vic Palmieri, From the Fronts; Patsy Van Ronkel, Norman Nomad. Joanne Briggs, Dick DeRoy, Melvin Isaacson, and Vic Palmieri composed the group of students who served as correspondents to city papers, and Morton Greenspoon continued as staff photographer. Business members were Burton Low, advertising manager; Pat Gardner, business manager; and Patsy Van Ronkel, circulation manager.

Creating competition among themselves, the senior journalists split up to edit the traditional Boys' and Girls' Editions. To gain actual editing experience, the two beginning journalism classes each published the annual cub editions. These are only two of the many events that added to the fun of taking journalism at Beverly.

Adviser and inspiration to the HIGHLIGHTS members is Mrs. Romaine H. Pauley. Her interest in the paper and its editors, coupled with the enthusiasm of the students, have blended to produce one of the outstanding high school newspapers in the nation.

Radio Speech

Fortunate in being the only high school in the nation to boast a weekly half-hour air show, Beverly High has reason to be proud of the progress made by its radio speech students. Miss Harriet Louise Touton is the adviser of the radio speech classes. With her helpful instruction and sincere encouragement, participants of the "Beverly High Theater of the Air" have continually maintained a high standard of entertainment for their audiences and their sponsor, Swelldom's of Beverly Hills.

Burton Low filled the presidential post, and Dorothy White served as vice-president. Before each graduation the members of the senior radio class who have presented the best work are chosen. In January Gloria Friedland, Merle Sandler, and Dorothy White received the votes for the best radio students in their class. During the spring semester Dick DeRoy, George Falkenstein, Melvin Isaacson, Stefan Schwarz, and Manya Shayon made outstanding contributions to the weekly programs.

Actual experience in writing, acting, and producing can be obtained in the radio classes. Although a few professional scripts have been adapted for the show, the majority of the plays that have been heard are written by the students themselves.

Radio Speech

Listeners who tuned in each Saturday morning at 11:30 over station KFAC heard a variety of outstanding programs. "Strangers on a Barren Shore," an original script on the life of George Eliot by Philip Kroopf, received much praise for the excellent writing and acting. In the leads were Manya Shayon and the author, while Bob Berliner, Beverly Dean, Marc Monheimer, Burton Low, and Francine Stutz composed the supporting cast. "Johnny Pye and the Fool Killer," adapted by Dick DeRoy from a Stephen Vincent Benet short story, proved a successful play with the adapter as producer and Melvin Isaacson in the leading role. In "Orchid," a play by Dick DeRoy and Stefan Schwarz, Francine Stutz starred in the title role. Assisting her in the cast were Lane Blank, Marcia Borie, Phyllis Bridge, Pat Hymson, Ruth Katzman, Bob King, Philip Kroopf, Sally Krueger, Marcia Minter, and Irvon Tennenbaum. "Retake," another script by Dick DeRoy and Stefan Schwarz, had a star cast of Dick DeRoy, Gloria Friedland, Melvin Isaacson, and Dorothy White. Merle Sandler directed the production. A drama entitled "Shadows of the Past" starred Gloria Friedland, Sally Krueger, and Merle Sandler. Stefan Schwarz and Harry Wood were the co-authors. "Seeds of Good," a play by Philip Kroopf boasted a cast of Beverly Dean, Jackie Kretz, and the author.

Some of the other scripts that were written especially for the Beverly air show included "Present for Louise" and "Career Girl," authored by Beverly Dean, "Promise for Tomorrow" by Nancy Noble and Betty Jane Winslow, "The More I See You" and "Hortense's Dilemma," written by Philip Kroopf and Dorothy White, and "Night Watch" by Dick Kelton and Stefan Schwarz.

Besides the weekly programs, the students participated in other activities which called for radio talent. In October at the John Marshall Speech Festival a fivesome took a first in the radio event. Using a cutting from "Death Takes a Holiday," Dick DeRoy produced the prize-winning show, while Gloria Friedland, Philip Kroopf, and Merle Sandler enacted the leading roles with Phyllis Bridge as technical director.

Forensics

As a fitting climax to Beverly's forensic season, three impressive speakers were entitled to participate in the Regional Finals Speech Tournament at Denver, Colorado, in May. By winning first places in the California state meet held in Bakersfield, Dick Kelton, Martin Schnitzer, and Norman Willner qualified to enter the Denver competition in extemporaneous speaking, oratorical declamation, and dramatic declamation, respectively. Five entrants from California met the requirements to contest in the national tourney, and Beverly High contributed three of the orators.

The first meet of the year was the Speech Festival, which John Marshall High School sponsored. Some of the Norman winners included Art Finkel, second place winner in oratorical declamation; George Sherman, second in humorous declamation; and Norman Willner, second in dramatic declamation.

Enthusiasm ran high when the speakers competed in the second tournament of the year at Huntington Park High School. Stefan Schwarz merited first place in original oratory. Martin Schnitzer emerged as the victor in oratorical declamation, and in the same event Art Finkel received a second place award. Norman Willner was voted first in dramatic declamation, and Manya Shayon earned a second in the same field.

Forensics

Sweepstakes award honors went to the talented Beverly forensic squad at the U. S. C. Invitational Tournament. Stefan Schwarz and Bob Conhaim composed the victorious debate team when they discussed the question of compulsory military training. Dick DeRoy triumphed in humorous declamation, and Art Finkel garnered a second for his oratorical declamation.

For the third consecutive year the spirited forensic team nabbed the sweepstakes cup at the National Forensic League meet. Bob Conhaim placed first with his extemporaneous speech, and Melvin Isaacson won a first for his humorous oration. In the dramatic division judges selected Manya Shayon as the first place winner. Putting forth their best efforts, the Norman orators garnered the winning trophy at the Redlands University Tournament for the third season in a row. Melvin Isaacson, second place winner in the California state tourney for his humorous declamation, surpassed all other contestants in this meet to achieve a first place. During this competition Martin Schnitzer claimed a first place in oratorical declamation. Beverly's dramatic entry, Norman Willner, merited a second place, and Dick Kelton won a second place in extemporaneous speaking.

May brought the long-awaited individual events tournament to Beverly High. Representing Southern California, over twenty high schools participated in this exciting battle of speeches.

Invitations to speak before the Kiwanis Club, the Optimist Club, Forestry Camp Four, and the Pacific Lodge were readily accepted by the orators. Among some of the other activities on the heavy forensic schedule were the annual school assembly and an appearance over station KNX for a panel discussion.

The National Forensic League was formed to recognize the prominent high school speakers in America. From Beverly Dick Kelton, Bob Conhaim, and Stefan Schwarz have earned the highest N. F. L. degree, that of Distinction. To merit this award, an orator must have collected at least two hundred points in speech tournaments and have presented a minimum of six service speeches.

Mrs. Lorna B. M. Tully with her untiring efforts and contagious spirit of confidence has developed in Beverly's speakers outstanding and lasting qualities for future success.

Vocational Conference

As part of an extended school program to stress future career opportunities, the Eighth Annual Vocational Conference was conducted from April 29 to May 3. The Commercial Department, in cooperation with the Kiwanis Club of Beverly Hills, annually strives to emphasize the importance of securing the future by preparing now. Each spring time is set aside for this traditional conference at which students may inquire about their specific vocational interests.

On Monday, April 29, a general assembly was held, during which Mr. Harry M. Alter, assistant principal, presented five of the department heads—Mr. Wendell Black, English Department; Mr. Newman Borden, Mathematics Department; Dr. Lowell C. Frost, Science Department; Mr. William C. Quandt, Social Studies Department; and Mrs. Lucille Robert, Art Department. Each instructor summarized the benefits and opportunities that are available in his section. Ninth and tenth grade students chose from professions, industry and commerce, fine arts, transportation and communication, or government service, when they attended their individual meetings on Tuesday, April 30. On the following day upper grade classmen decided among professions, commerce, industry, fine arts, engineering, practical arts, or government service for their separate discussion groups. In the process of these meetings Normans come in contact with successful business and professional people who encourage the progress of youth in their fields.

Keeping in mind this year's theme, "Vocational Opportunities," the faculty and students who assisted in the general planning designed the program to include as wide a range of fields as possible. Lianne Schroeder, head of the Commercial Club, served as student president of the conference, while Margie Kaufman worked as student chairman.

Since he is in charge of the guidance office, Mr. Alter annually supervises the vocational conference as chairman. His genuine interest in assisting students to find a suitable occupation has started many a Norman on his road to lasting success.

A Cappella

Last year the A Cappella Choir culminated its active season with an appearance on a symphony program conducted by Leopold Stowkowski. Honored by being the only vocal organization invited to participate in the musical festival, the choir this year has again proved itself to be one of the finest groups of its kind in Southern California.

Led by President Wade Tucker, the A Cappella Choir successfully completed a full schedule during the first semester. For Navy Day the group helped put over Mr. Bryant M. Hale's musical comedy, "Salt Water Daffy." Giving their interpretation of 15 anthems and carols, the choir members next presented the annual Christmas Vespers Program. After accepting the yearly invitation, members of the choir traveled to the Beverly Hills Hotel to entertain the Rotary Club. To close the first half of its season, the choir sang at the Baccalaureate services held for W '46 graduating class.

During the second semester Jerry Hummel presided over the choir activities. The first engagement was a transcription for KMPC. Continuing with their radio career, choir members next appeared over KFWB on a musical program. The Kiwanis Club heard the A Cappella at the Beverly Hills Hotel, and a few weeks later the group performed before the Optimist Club. Climaxing a busy year, Beverly's A Cappella Choir was host to approximately 40 vocal organizations from Southern California at the traditional Choral Festival. In the last several years Normandy's A Cappella has ranked as one of the best in this area.

Largely responsible for the high peak of accomplishment reached by the A Cappella Choir are the director, Mr. Glen M. Case, and the rehearsal accompanist, Mrs. Eloise Smith. The inspiration and efforts of Mr. Case have led the group to success year after year.

Orchestra

Terminating a successful year, the orchestra and band welcomed back their former director, Mr. George Wright. Both students and faculty took part in the hearty reception which greeted Mr. Wright on his return from the army. When he resumed his position as head of the music department, Mr. Wright relieved Mr. Theodore Norman who substituted during his absence.

Bill Fore deserves credit for organizing the band in the fall. Due to his efforts the traditional football music was available at the games. When Mr. Wright returned in the spring, long hours of practice were devoted to polishing up musical scores for numerous assemblies. To promote more efficiency, officers were selected. Hugh Knox served as manager; Larry Munter, assistant manager; Gene Goranson and Bob King, co-librarians.

The major activities in which the orchestra participated included the Christmas Program, baccalaureate, graduation, various assemblies, and a combined concert with the elementary school orchestras. Leslie Liscom handled the duties of manager; Beth Lang, head librarian; Julie Beyer and Bonnie Wimer, assistant librarians.

Band

Girls' Glee

Serving as stepping stones to the A Cappella Choir, the Girls' and Boys' Glee offer valuable training to beginning vocalists. Contributions in song were made by both groups to the Christmas Program and the Navy Day Assembly. Under the capable direction of Mr. Glen M. Case, the singers are accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Eloise Smith.

During the year the girls elected Betsy Roberts and Joan Leavitt, presidents; Marlene Hinds, Shirley Rowson, vice-presidents; Gloria Gardner, Virginia Vermuelen, secretaries; Dorothy James, Joan West, assistant secretaries; Shirley Rowson, Carol Briggs, librarians; Joan Leavitt, Marlene Hinds, assistant librarians; Ann Hatteroth, Marilyn Harter, property managers; Patricia Spector, Mary Lou West, assistant property managers; Jo Ann Webb, Portia Graves, publicity managers.

Officers for the Boys' Glee included Franklin Ulf and Dick Clarke, presidents; John Broderick, Ronald Preussing, vice-presidents; David Dyer, Harrison Lasky, secretaries; Dick Clarke, Wells Peck, assistant secretaries; Rodger Elander, Gordon Clarke, librarians; Charles Sill, Gene Campeau, assistant librarians; Frank Miller, property manager; Conrad Bromberg, Fred Kaplan, assistant property managers; Malcolm Crosby, publicity manager.

Beverly High was transformed into Central High when "What A Life," the second annual spring play, was presented in the school auditorium. A full house enjoyed the evening performance of the hilarious comedy on Friday, March 15. Directing the play, Miss Florence A. Kinsey was assisted by student producer, Philip Kroopf.

"What a Life"

The play centers around the calamitous activities of Henry Aldrich and the consequences they evoked. Jerry Hummel gave a natural portrayal of the main character. Sharing the honors, Coy Major enacted the part of Barbara Pearson, Henry's girl friend, and Vic Palmieri characterized George Bigelow, chief rival for her affections. Betty Jane Winslow and Sammy Grossman performed the romantic leads, Miss Shea and Mr. Nelson. With graying hairs and a convincing voice Melvin Isaacson emerged as Central High's principal, Mr. Bradley. Other students who portrayed faculty members include Philip Kroopf as Mr. Patterson, Aljean Levin as Miss Eggleston, Barbara Schenkel as Miss Johnson, and Patsy Van Ronkel as Miss Pike. Three of Henry's friends in the play were Bill, as interpreted by Dick Altman; Mary, by Lunda Lou Hoyle; and Gertie, by Jackie Krasne. Renee Sheranian was seen as Mrs. Aldrich, Henry's mother. Dick Kindelon enacted Mr. Ferguson, and Harry Russell, Mr. Vechitto. Completing the cast, Jack Casusus, Judy Foreman, Gloria Grossman, Martha Kessler, Bob King, Elaine Krasney, Frances Rittmayer, Charlene Shayne, and Don Wolfe portrayed Central High students.

The entire audience and student body appreciated the untiring efforts of Miss Kinsey in making this production possible.

Drama Festival

Breaking away from tradition, the Norman thespians this spring changed the policy of the school by staging Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac" instead of the customary Shakespearian Festival. With the presentation of this play the new Drama Festival was inaugurated, and in the future students will be given an opportunity to view the classic works of various authors. Held from May 22-24, a series of assemblies entertained the student body with Normandy's interpretation of the popular "Cyrano de Bergerac."

While clad in seventeenth century costumes, Norman players presented the heroic tragedy of frustrated love. Vic Palmieri emerged in the title role, while Philip Kroopf appeared as Christian, Cyrano's rival. Manya Shayon completed the trio of leading characters with her portrayal of the lovely Roxanne.

Other pupils who acted in supporting roles included Dick Altman, Marcia Bromberg, Jack Casarus, Herb Constine, Dick DeRoy, Bill Gallsign, Stan Gershon, Sammy Grossman, Harris Katleman, Dick Kelton, Pierre Kern, Dick Kindelon, Elaine Krasne, Rod Loeb, Bill Lusk, Toby Madison, Coy Major, Irving Marx, Mildred Mauldin, June O'Keeffe, Chuck Perry, Dick Price, Frank Rowley, Dick St. Johns, Adolph Schmidt, Stefan Schwarz, Cliff Sherer, Harris Sherline, Patti Wehl, Bob Wiener, Betty Jane Winslow, and Don Wolfe. Jackie Krasne contributed to the production by her services as student producer, and Aljean Levin, as assistant producer.

By their consistent and helpful support Miss Florence A. Kinsey and Miss Alida Parker ably assisted the dramatists in presenting this production.

Stage Crew

With a membership of over eighty this year the stage crew has developed into one of the largest groups on campus. Mr. Bryant M. Hale, who directs the crew, has done an excellent job of organizing the students into an efficient and worthy organization.

Activities for which the crew designed and produced the backgrounds are Color Night, the Christmas Program, "What A Life," "Cyrano de Bergerac," and the weekly assemblies.

Each semester five students assume the responsibilities of managers for the major divisions of the work. For the fall term Conrad Schweitzer headed the crew as stage manager. Dean Hansen worked as head flyman, and Dick Robbins was in charge of painting. John Steigerwald, as head electrician for both terms, handled the lighting effects, while Chuck Weisstein, head constructionist, focused his attention on the building of the sets. During the spring semester Dick Davis, stage manager, checked all work, while Walt Murphy assisted as head flyman. Jim Mears supervised the painting projects, and Dick Hammond's work was centered on construction.

Alphas

BETTY STAUFFER

To become a member of the Alpha organization is the highest honor a girl can achieve at Beverly. It means that she has successfully fulfilled the qualifications of school service, has a B grade average, and has been recommended by the faculty for this honor. The purpose of Alpha is to recognize girls who have excelled in leadership, sportsmanship, and scholarship and to render service to the school.

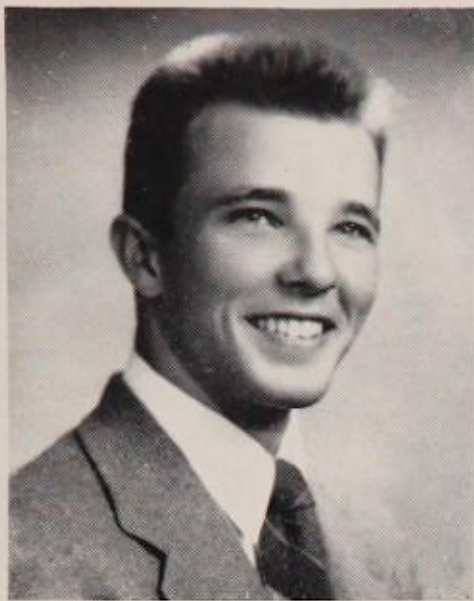

This year's program began under the leadership of Mariellen Smith and her cabinet with the traditional Alpha Star Light Dance at the Riviera Country Club. The spring semester opened with Betty Stauffer and her cabinet, who created an Alpha discussion board for freshman girls. Among the other projects tackled were the Alpha assembly in April and mother and daughter teas. The annual Benefit Tea for Beverly girls and their friends was given at the Beverly Hills Women's Club April 27 with the future student canteen as its theme.

Mrs. Moore and Miss McClure, co-sponsors, gave excellent backing to the year's program with their fine spirit.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Mariellen Smith, Betty Stauffer; Vice-presidents, Barbara Evans, June O'Keefe; Secretaries, Betty Springmeyer, Gerry Curley; Treasurers, Marjorie Norberg, Carolyn Pickens.

Knights

BOB EWING

Representing the goal of every boy at Beverly is membership in the Knights' organization, the honorary club which consists of outstanding eleventh and twelfth grade boys. Those who receive the honor of becoming a Knight must abide by such principles as high scholarship, school service, dependability, and sportsmanship.

Primarily a service organization, the Knights have done many things for the school. They ushered at almost every assembly and program where ushers were needed. Carrying on the tradition set by their predecessors, the Knights raised the flag every morning this year, too. They also worked hard on keeping the campus clean. That "Dance of Dances," the Knights' Dance, took place on May 10 this year. It was held at the Miramar Hotel in the customary formal attire.

Sponsored by Doctor Lowell Frost, the Knights have several honorary members. These include Mr. Arnold Bowhay, Mr. James Lee, Mr. Norman Fjeldsted, Mr. R. G. Mitchell, Mr. William Morrison, and Mr. Jack Schwartz. The Knights' Cup and the Knight Paramount Award are presented at the end of each semester to the two Knights who have given outstanding service to the organization and the school, respectively.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Jim Powers and Bob Ewing; Secretary-Treasurers, Fred Lee and Leslie Liscom.

Adelphians

On Valentine Day, 1946, twenty-eight girls became the charter members of Adelphian. At a formal initiation ceremony the Alphas welcomed into the new sister organization ninth and tenth grade girls who had been selected by the faculty on the basis of their scholarship, seriousness of purpose, and desire to serve their school and the world about them. For three days before the initiation the girls had worn the red and white Adelphian medallion.

Already the Adelphians have become an active, moving organization and a very real part of campus life. They have shipped two hundred pounds of canned foods to the starving countries of Europe. They presented a check to the Red Cross and introduced to the student body their song, "Adelphian Alway."

Membership in Adelphian is open to ninth and tenth grade girls who have the necessary qualifications. Girls may apply for membership, be recommended by any member of the faculty, or be recommended by any Adelphian. Eligibility is determined by a committee consisting of three faculty members and three Adelphians. There is no limit set on the number of girls who may become members.

OFFICERS: President, Shirlie Ford, Vice-President, Marlene Hinds; Secretary, Lianne Schroeder; Treasurer, Margot Boice.
MEMBERS: Carolyn Aiken, Loma Bald, Margot Boice, Marilyn Borden, Mary Castenholtz, Sharon Clark, Shirlie Ford, Fern Hamsher, Marcella Haviland, Marlene Hinds, Helen Hodapp, Nancy Hollingsworth, Nanette Howe, Joan Leavitt, Betty Lewis, Cynthia Morris, Barbara Noe, Betsy Roberts, Virginia de Rochemont, Dorothy Remonek, Patricia Rose, Judy Ross, Lianne Schroeder, Sally Selby, Gerry Turk, Donna Weiss, Joan White, Ann Zimmerman.

Squires

The Squires Society honors ninth and tenth grade boys who have achieved merit as outstanding members of their class and of the school. The main objectives of this club are to serve the school, to promote fellowship with the club and school, and to promote the development of leadership in lower grade boys. The members assist in athletic events by guarding the doors of the swim gym at basketball games and by acting as hall-guards during the day and at noon so that the halls will be kept in good order. Each night the Squires perform their customary duty of lowering the flag.

During the second semester the Squires presented to the student body one of the best dances of the year, the "Basket-Ball." Closing the basketball season, this dance was held at the Beverly Hills Women's Club.

Every Tuesday is Squires' day and each member wears his bright blue sweater with the blue and white "S" symbol on the front. The capable sponsor is Mr. K. C. Mitchell.

OFFICERS: President, Bob Ward; Vice-President, David Willardson; Secretary-Treasurers, Marlo Jarman and John McGhee.

Palladians

One of the highest scholastic honors which a student at Beverly can achieve is membership in the Palladian organization. In order to qualify for this club a student needs three A's and one B. Although the gym grade is not counted, extra points can be gained for extra-curricular activities. The graduating seniors who are members of the Palladians for six semesters, one in the senior year, are awarded the Sealbearer award, one of the few scholastic honors recognized on college campuses. Membership for four semesters, one in the senior year, entitles a student to the Torchbearer award.

Sponsored this year by Mr. Milfred Schafer, the Palladians started a new tradition of initiating new members. Initiates wore dunce hats during the day and passed around the Torch of Knowledge during the formal initiation.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Manya Shayon and Dick Kelton; Girls' Vice-Presidents, Fern Hamsher and Lee Stoller; Boys' Vice-Presidents, Leonard Stecher and Peter Oppenheim; Secretaries, June Johnson and Joan Levey; Treasurers, Louise Gilmore and Ann Friedman.

International Statesmen

With a slightly smaller membership than in previous years International Statesmen this year consisted only of those students vitally interested in current problems. Various March of Time films were shown, and the problems presented in them were discussed in panel groups. Under the faculty supervision of Mr. W. C. Quandt, the International Statesmen again sponsored the annual Americanism Essay Contest.

OFFICERS: President, Dick Kelton; Vice-President, Gerry Curley; Secretary, Carolyn Heim; Treasurer, Ellen Espy.

Biblions

The Biblions, one of Beverly's honor service organizations, is under the capable sponsorship of Miss Hazel S. Vaughan. It is composed of the Library Council and the Library Staff. The membership consists of students chosen from all classes except the incoming freshmen. In addition to working daily in the library members earned money for various charities.

At Christmas time the Biblions sold two hundred appointment calendars as a means of making money. On February 9 the Biblions held a dance at the home of Nancy Bacon. The dance was very successful and more are planned for future years.

This year the Biblions took in a maximum of twenty-three candidates which is more than they have ever taken in before. A plan is now being used whereby more students will be able to become Biblions.

A new style of pin has been ordered, and money has been set aside for the purchase of green sweaters with the Biblion emblem. These sweaters will be worn only by those who have served their term working in the library.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Jerry Hummel and Bill Boeck; Vice-Presidents, Bob Fuller and Jim Pond; Secretaries, Nancy Bacon and Nancy Merritt; Treasurers, Gerry Curley and Sandy Bothman.

Alchemists

Inspired by the wonders of the chemical world are these honorary students of Beverly High. Taking their lives in their hands, to say nothing of the lives of their fellow members, Normandy's chemical genii have banded together to perform their own experiments and to see who can blow up the laboratory first. Under the name of the Alchemists they represent the best chemistry students of the school and those who have maintained a high grade average in chemistry. They were elected by the members on the approval of their chemistry teachers. Alchemist meetings were held on the first Thursday and third Tuesday of every month.

Club work, which consists almost entirely of laboratory technique, has rewarded the members in knowledge and valuable experience. The main purpose is to study the advanced research of chemistry and the practical uses of this science. An interesting sidelight, which no Alchemist will forget, is the practice of the weird initiations.

The Alchemists were under the capable sponsorship of Miss Erna M. Schwerin, who is very much interested in chemistry and the work of the group.

OFFICERS: President, Leonard Peller; Secretary-Treasurer, Leonard Stecher.

Norman Lettermen

Membership in the Norman Lettermen Club is the highest athletic achievement a boy may hope to obtain while attending Beverly. According to the standards of the club, a boy must be one of the bigger, better athletes attending the school and must also be well liked. New members are compelled to go through a short period of physical hazing (initiation) before being recognized as a member.

The purpose of the club is to help maintain order at all athletic events and promote better school spirit by participating in athletics.

At every main athletic event it was the Norman Lettermen who took charge of taking the tickets, guarding the exits, and seeing that everything ran smoothly. It was a difficult job well done. This organization has also been responsible for sponsoring All-Bay League Teams which have been officially picked by the schools in the league. An attempt was made this year to develop adult interest in athletics by inviting parents to games and having them participate in sports.

One of the best dances of the year was held at the Rolling Hills Country Club. The dance was directed by the lettermen and supervised by the sponsor, Mr. C. Harold Bacon. This year the boys really proved that they were Beverly's top athletes and deserve the honor bestowed upon them as members.

OFFICERS: President, Dick Robbins, Conrad Schweitzer; Vice-President, Conrad Schweitzer, Alvan Kavich; Treasurer, Mitchell Cleary; Secretary, Bob Ewing, Jim Griffin.

Studio Club

Completely reorganized from the bottom up, the Studio Club, which consists of those students interested in art, was very busy forming the basic principles of the club. In fact, at most of the club meetings future activities were discussed in great detail. Many elaborate plans were made at these meetings to insure a successful future for the group.

Under the faculty guidance of Mrs. Lucille Robert activities got under way at the beginning of the fall semester. The members elected Pat Elliott, president; Hilde Carsten, vice-president; Carolyn Pickens, secretary-treasurer; and Louise Kramer, hospitality chairman. The new council spent a great deal of time and effort in writing the Studio Club constitution which had to be completed before further activities could get under way.

Once the Studio Club began to function as an active club many interesting activities took place. One of the most impressive ones for the members was the field trip. Provided for by Mrs. Robert, the field trip took in a commercial art exhibit.

Striving to be a perfect club in every way, the members of the Studio Club did not overlook the matter of pins. The selection of pins was made after the club really became organized during the second semester.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Pat Elliott and Lorraine Pitman; Vice-Presidents, Hilde Carsten and June O'Keeffe; Secretary-Treasurers, Carolyn Pickens and Nan Uhlman; Hospitality, Louise Kramer and Steffi Weil.

Press Club

Finding out as much as possible about the field of journalism, the members of the Press Club are either cubs or staff members of the HIGHLIGHTS, the school paper. Sponsored once again by Mrs. Romaine Pauley, journalism instructor, the Press Club enjoyed a very active semester. For one project the members went for a tour through the plant of the Beverly Hills Citizen. There they were fascinated by the workings of a city newspaper.

The club's activities are highlighted at the end of each semester by the semi-annual banquet. At these banquets the recipient of the Reporter's Cup is announced as well as the staff positions for the next semester and the new members of Quill and Scroll. Sometimes a take-off is presented on either the cubs or the staff members, an event which proves to be a lot of fun for everyone.

Not overlooking the possibility of social fun, the Press Club had a combination picnic and treasure hunt at a near-by park. Among its many other activities the club also had a Christmas party at the home of one of its members.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Patsy Van Ronkel and Sonnia Stangle; Vice-Presidents, Margaret Cameron and Joanne Briggs; Secretaries, JoAnne Butler and Sue Tannenbaum; Treasurers, Sandy MacKinnon and Bettie Watson.

Press Club

Los Quijotes

Los Quijotes, the upper grade Spanish Club, plans interesting programs for its members. They have dinners composed of all Spanish food and take trips to Padua Hills and Olivera Street. The purpose of the club is to widen the members' knowledge of Spanish customs and traditions and to learn more about Spanish ways of life and the Latin American temperament and attitude towards life. They do this by studying Spanish music, dances, and other forms of recreation. Mr. John C. Padilla is the sponsor who has guided this club through another successful year.

OFFICERS: Presidents, George Clausen and Judy Freedman; Vice-Presidents, Betty Springmeyer and Ellen Espy; Secretaries, Sue Robinson and Rosanne Sessions; Treasurers, Carol Herrick and Nadine Lang.

The purpose of the Lower Grade Spanish Club is to promote interest in the Spanish language and in the peoples of the Spanish speaking nations. The club provides more opportunity to use Spanish in simple conversations, plays, games, and songs. The sponsors this year are Miss Edith Knoles and Mr. Victor Seine.

Lower Grade Spanish Club

Commercial Club

Sponsored by Mrs. Evelyn Hemman and Miss Pauline Everett, the Commercial Club spent a busy year. Besides sponsoring the Vocational Conference the club sent HIGHLIGHTS to servicemen, heard speakers, and did Red Cross work.

OFFICERS: Presidents, Ted Morse and Lianne Schroeder; Vice-President, Lianne Schroeder; Secretary, Nancy Bishop; Treasurer, Marilyn Borden.

Home Economics Club

Lektos

The Lektos organization, sponsored by Miss Frances Hurd, is an honorary club composed of students with outstanding ability in some one field. Members are chosen upon the recommendation of the faculty for their above-average achievement in a particular department. One member is chosen for every 200 students in each department. During their rigid initiation period, the new members, wearing black mortar-board hats, can be seen wandering through the halls in a daze.

This year the Lektos, under the leadership of Gerry Curley, the president, put on a Faculty Talent Show which was voted the best assembly of the year. Both the faculty and the students enjoyed its presentation.

The Quill and Scroll represents students who have done exceptional work in journalism. The society is international in scope and is restricted to editorial staff members. Requirements for membership are nomination by Mrs. Romaine Pauley and election by a national board. At Beverly the results of new elections are usually announced during the Press Club banquet. This year the Quill and Scroll engaged in outside activities. It sponsored a series of noon assemblies, which included swimming and fencing matches. This is the first year for such activities.

OFFICERS: President, Morton Greenspoon; Vice-President, Lee Stoller; Secretary-Treasurer, Ann Friedman.

MEMBERS: Judy Freedman, Ann Friedman, Morton Greenspoon, Jack Ince, Melvin Isaacson, Eleanor Knecht, Bob Rifkind, Lee Stoller, Bob Strock.

Norman

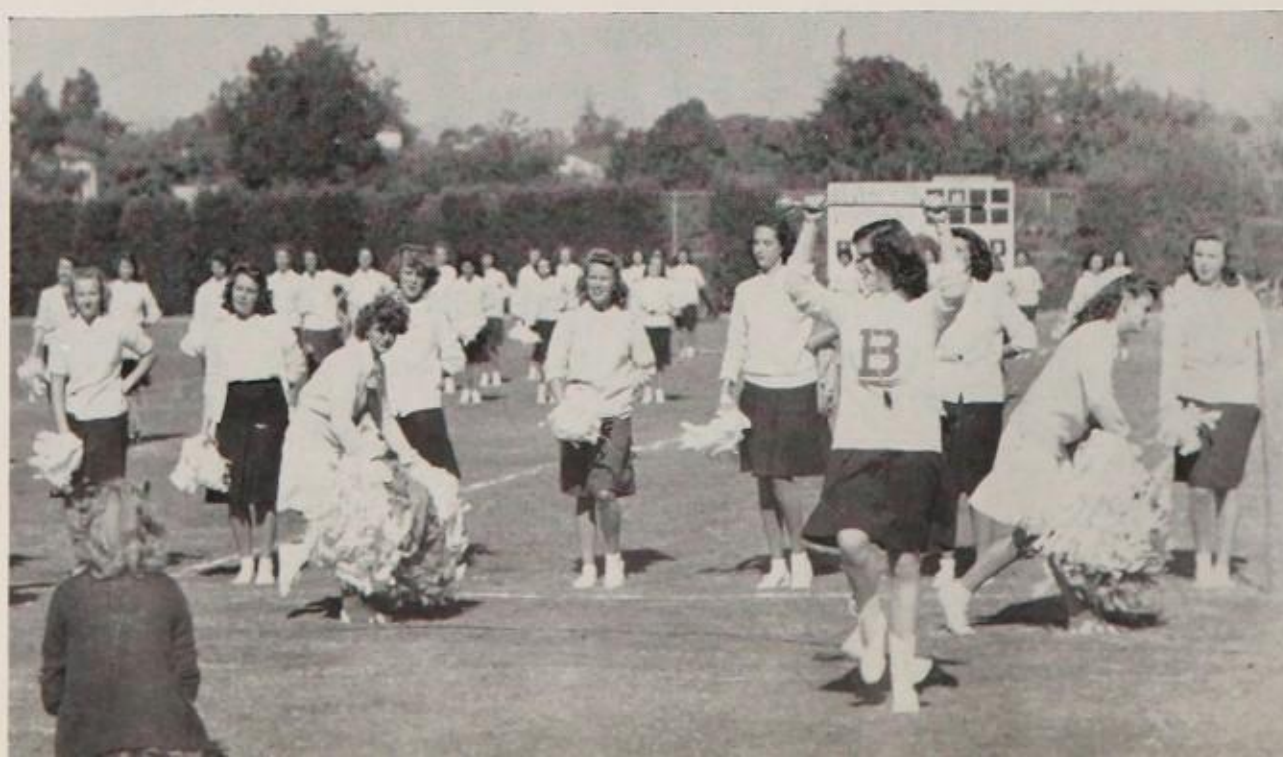

“Well, Joe Norman, what do you think of Beverly’s spirit now?”

Overhearing this chance remark, I took a minute from the thrilling game to look over the cheering crowd and think what Beverly’s spirit meant to me.

As I was witnessing a basketball game in which five boys were defending the name of their school, team spirit came to my mind. What is team spirit? I couldn’t answer my own question. I had to stop to think. Is it the feeling a person gets when he knows he can depend on someone? Is it the lift a fellow feels when the coach smiles or the team pats him on the back? Is it the joy of victory or the sorrow of defeat the whole team feels as a unit? Suddenly a girl sitting in back of me answered my own question when she said to her friend, “Aren’t you proud of them?” Then I knew that those five boys had team spirit not because they were friends, not because they admired each other, but because each player was fighting to make Beverly victorious.

Suddenly the buzzer gave a long ring, and the crowd was surging toward the exits. With a sigh I started to squirm my way through the enthusiastic rooters of this last basketball game of the season. I couldn’t help thinking of the sports to come—swimming, track, and baseball. Then I thought how differently spectators feel towards a swimming match or a track meet, how the fellows themselves have a little different kind of spirit. Here team spirit gives way to competition. The spectators cheer on the players as they recognize individual success, yet it is the team as a whole that has the spirit and the honor of Normandy to defend.

Spirit

Walking uncomfortably through the crowd, I realized team spirit wasn't the only kind of student enthusiasm. The coaches have the responsibility to develop in the boys a sportsmanship quality that will stay with them throughout their lives. This kind of spirit taught in the high school develops in college and finally proves itself later in business. The cheer leaders, pom pom girls, and the drill team can't have team spirit, but they can produce an equivalent of it among the people in the stands. In that way they are helping to spread a feeling of good will and real fellowship in sports.

Now practically out of the emptying swim gym my thoughts turned from sports to Norman spirit in activities. After all if spirit stopped with a football game or a track meet, then one could not really say there was a school spirit. School spirit, I decided, comes only when the members of the student body work as a whole to improve themselves and their campus. I remembered back through the year to the bond drives, the clothing drive, and the campus clean-up campaigns. It wasn't until then that I noticed that when the students were busily working for a cause, the school spirit was most evident.

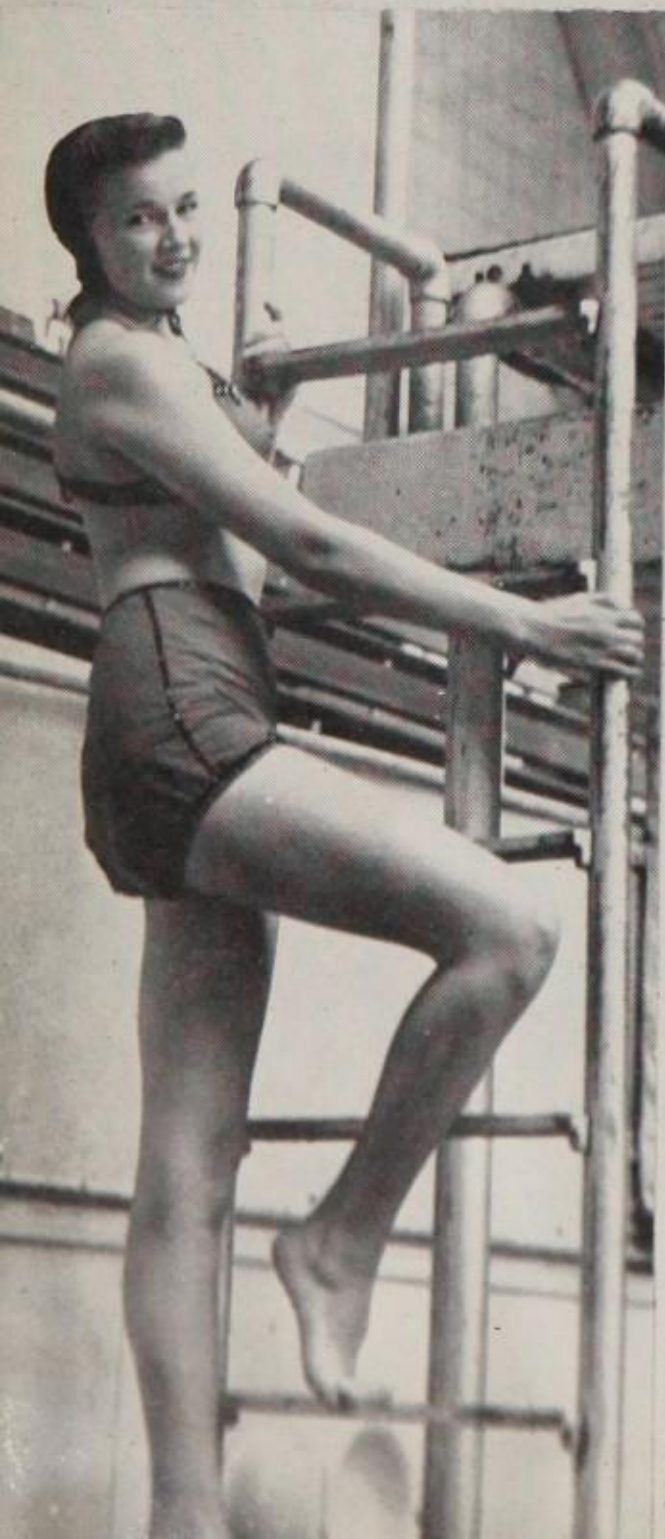

Away from the crowd now and no longer stirred with the emotion of a closely fought contest, I tried to answer that question I so unexpectedly overheard. The one exact word wouldn't come to my mind, for Beverly's spirit meant more to me than that; it meant a smoothly blended combination of intangible thoughts that no Joe or Jane Norman could adequately express.
